BERLIN READY TO TALK PEACE ON FOES' TERMS

Will Consider Restitution, Reparation, and Guarantees, Capital Report.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Germany stands ready to discuss peace with the allies on the conditions they have named in their reply to the overtures of the Teutonic powers.

This is the official German view of peace prospects authoritatively stated to me tonight.

German officials believe their government will declare, either publicly or confidentially to President Wilson, the willingness to negotiate further for the termination of the war, taking into full consideration the allies' demands for restitution of conquered territory, reparation of injured belligerents, and guarantees for the future preservation of peace.

BLAME ALLIES IF WAR GOES ON.

If the German overtures do not lead to peace, it is stated, it will be because the allies are unwilling to declare the great struggle a deadlock and are bent upon continuing the war in the hope of dictating a victor's terms.

Entente diplomats assert that any further move by Germany will be a bluff and a sham, as the allies' note characterized the Berlin overtures, and predict that the Teutonic powers will show themselves unwilling to meet unequivocally the conditions named by the entente.

The German view is that the Teutonic powers are ready to discuss reparation—mutual reparation. They are willing to make reparation for the violation of Belgian neutrality if the allies will make reparation for the violation of Greek neutrality.

WILL DISCUSS GUARANTEES.

Germany, it is stated, yields nothing to the allies in recognizing "the principle of nationalities and the free existence of small states," and proposes that the peace discussion shall include not only German treatment of Belgium but the allies' treatment of Greece.

Likewise Germany asserts readiness to discuss guarantees for the future security of the world, including the freedom of the seas, disarmament, and a league to enforce peace.

Whether the Berlin government will send a rejoinder directly to the allies is uncertain. It is believed here that Germany will make no move until the allies answer President Wilson's peace appeal, and that Berlin's course will be determined largely by the character of that communication.

MAY PUBLISH PEACE TERMS.

That Germany, however, will take a further step to bring about peace negotiations, either publicly or privately, is regarded as foregone conclusion. In fact, it would occasion no surprise, even in official German circles, if Berlin were to proclaim to the world the general conditions upon which it is proposed to discuss peace.

It is pointed out that if Germany declines to answer the allies in the spirit of still being willing to negotiate a cessation of hostilities she would lend color to the charge of her enemies that her peace move is not sincere and is only a war maneuver.

FOR HOME CONSUMPTION.

According to the German viewpoint, the allies' reply is a hypocritical misrepresentation of the causes of the war, put forth for home consumption and having nothing to do with the fact that a bloody and useless war is in progress which ought to be stopped if there is any possible way of doing it. The Germans blame the allies, and particularly Sir Edward Grey, for precipitating the war.

If one eliminates the charges against Germany, it is pointed out, the allies' reply leaves the way open for further negotiations, and it is deemed certain that Berlin will take advantage of this opening to make another advance toward an agreement with the entente.

First and Last Arrests in Old and New Year

The last arrest for the old year at the Chicago avenue station was Henry G. [illegible], [illegible] North Clark street, arrested for violation of the Sunday closing law. He was booked shortly before midnight. The first arrest of the new year at that station was Mike Cadrian, an Austrian, arrested on North Clark street for being "drunk and disorderly," as the book reads. He was arrested by Policeman William Degenbach.

Dual Inauguration Threatens Trouble in Arizona Today

Disputed Election Draws Cowboys and Miners Into Phoenix.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Armed men within and armed men without guard Arizona's state capitol tonight and every door is locked. For tomorrow is inauguration day and two men, one a Republican, one a Democrat, have all preparations complete to be sworn in as governor.

The Democrat, G. W. P. Hunt, is the incumbent. In control of the machinery of office, he proposes to be reinaugurated on the assumption that a recount of the ballots will show him to have been reelected.

The Republican, Thomas E. Campbell, bases his claims on a certificate of election issued by Secretary of State Sidney P. Osborn.

Formal oaths of office have been taken by both, but members of his own party's state central committee have repudiated Gov. Hunt in his stand.

Thousands to "See Fun."

Present indications are that the thousands of citizens who will gather before the state house tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock will witness an attempt on the part of both Hunt and Campbell to be the principal figures in formal inauguration ceremonies. Each is ready with an inaugural address. And each has selected his officer to administer an informal oath of office.

That Hunt will make his appearance upon the portico of the capitol at 10 o'clock is not doubted. He is in possession of the building. That Campbell will appear there also is a practical certainty, for his adherents are prepared to place him there, even if they have to boost him up a ladder from the ouside of the building.

Trouble in the Air.

Ugly rumors are afloat tonight and disturbances are anticipated when the two forces attempt to make a showing at seating their man. A large force of miners from Gila county are reported on the way to Phoenix to take up cudgels for Hunt. An equally large force of cowpunchers are said to have arrived from Yavapai county to assist in looking after Campbell's interests.

That the Phoenix police force will have its hands full in preserving order, if not preventing bloodshed, is certain. A meeting was held this afternoon of the new deputy sheriffs who will assume office tomorrow, at which time a plan will be outlined for handling the situation in conjunction with the police.

Hunt's Stand Perilous.

On Saturday Gov. Hunt hurled the bomb. He announced that he considered himself legally elected to the office for another term and that he did not propose either to take part in the inauguration of Campbell or to relinquish the office to Campbell if he is inaugurated.

Thereupon the Republican central committee sought legal advice, with the result that it was found that Hunt, in the event he has not been legally elected, will be liable to arrest and upon conviction subject to a state prison sentence if he withholds the office from his duly elected and qualified successor.

M'ADOO URGES BOND SALE OF $200,000,000

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—The sale of approximately $200,000,000 worth of bonds to meet the demand for an increase in the government revenues of nearly $400,000,000 was recommended today by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo.

This recommendation is understood to be the reply of Secretary McAdoo to the proposal of Chairman Kitchin of the house ways and means committee to raise the required new revenue by the wholesale increase of present internal taxes and by the imposition of a number of new taxes, including one on the manufacture of automobiles.

1916 MINE YIELD AT $3,000,000,000

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—Three billion dollars is the value put upon the 1916 output of American mines in estimates made to Secretary Lane today by the geological survey. The enormous production was accompanied by the greatest profits the mining industry of the country ever has known, copper alone netting about $[illegible],000,000.

Production, it is estimated, has run at least 25 per cent ahead of 1915.

The copper output was the sensation of the year in the mining world. At an average price of 27 cents a pound the 1916 production had a value of $[illegible],000,000 compared with $[illegible],000,000 the year before and $[illegible] in 1914. The profits were the greatest ever known in the metal.

GIRL MODEL OF CAR AD FAME IS MURDERED

Grace Roberts, "Perfect Woman," Found Slain in Her Philadelphia Home.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Grace Colbert Roberts, a beautiful art model, known among painters and illustrators as "the perfect woman," pictures of whose shapely ankles advertise a fashionable brand of hosiery in all the magazines and half the street cars in the country, was found murdered last night in her home in the Wilton apartments at Fifteenth and Poplar streets.

She lay on a bed in her boudoir in a suit of blue silk pajamas. Her loose hair, spread like a golden veil over her face, hid the wounds that caused her death.

The police have no definite clew to the identity of the slayer, who, with a flatiron, hit the woman in the head, crushing her skull, and then finished his job by strangling her with her own silk stockings, which he tied tightly around her neck.

HAD PROMINENT FRIENDS.

A dozen photographs of male admirers, several of them prominent in the business and social life of Philadelphia, were found in the boudoir of the model. The photographs were taken by the detectives and are being closely guarded. Meanwhile the police are seeking to ascertain what relations existed between the model and these men, who appear to have been her intimate friends.

Capt. James Tate of the detective bureau today said that as far as his men were able to determine the murder was a man's job and probably a one man job. Robbery was not the motive, he contends.

Grace Roberts was a widow. She lived in a suite of three rooms on the first floor. There are about fifteen other occupants of the building. None of them, so they say, heard any sound of a struggle during the night. But the Roberts suite this morning gave every evidence of a violent struggle between slayer and victim. The detectives are proceeding on the theory that the woman was slain by a man whom she knew intimately.

MAN'S SHIRT ONE CLEW.

Aside from the photographs held by the police, there are two definite lines on which the detectives are basing their hope for a speedy capture of the murderer. Among the articles found in the boudoir of the woman was a man's shirt, covered with blood, and collar. The shirt was an ordinary blue striped shirt and of a 15 size. There was a bloodstain finger print on the collar. All marks of identification had been removed from the shirt.

Another clew held by the police is the automobile license number of a young man said to have been a frequent caller on the woman.

JANITOR TELLS STORY.

Benjamin, the janitor, found the body when he went to investigate at the request of Bessie Colbert, a sister of the slain woman, who had been unable to get a response to her telephone calls. Benjamin says he had no key to the rooms, that the apartments were kept in order by the model's own maid, known as Eleanor, who has not been found by the police, and that Mrs. Roberts had six keys.

The police have established the fact that there were many callers among them prominent men, at the model's apartments and neighbors aver that there was frequently much merriment in evidence there.

There is a large coterie of men about town to whom the murder of Grace Roberts, as it was disclosed today, came as a shock. There were plenty of men in Philadelphia who never had heard of this "girl of the form divine," but there also were plenty who knew her and liked her.

LEFT A WIDOW YOUNG.

Grace Roberts was merely a bit of a girl when she came to Philadelphia three years ago, and yet, despite this tender age, she was then two years a widow. Her husband had died during the second year of their married life, and the girl came from the little town of [illegible], Pa., to make her way in the world.

As a model she soon came to great demand. Illustrators for current magazines began to seek her services, and the makers of a nation-famed brand of [illegible] hosiery selected her [illegible] for their brand of stockings.

Fight Madly to Escape Quebec Blaze

Montreal, Quebec, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Forty-five insane woman patients, inmates of the asylum of St. Ferdinand de Halifax, and a sister of the community of the Sisters of Charity of the Quebec branch, were burned to death when the asylum building was destroyed by fire shortly before 7 o'clock Saturday night.

The asylum was situated in the little parish of the same name in the county of Megantic, and fifteen miles from Plessisville. It was one of the regular government establishments for the care of the insane and was used only for the care of female patients.

THIRTY NARROWLY ESCAPE.

One wing of the building was employed by the Sisters of Charity as a school for young girls of varying ages. When the fire started there were thirty girls in this wing, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that they were saved.

The asylum is situated at some little distance from other habitations from which assistance could readily come, and when the flames secured a strong hold there was little chance of making rescues or checking the fire. There were 180 inmates of the institution in all. Of this number 134 either escaped or were saved.

MANY LEAP FROM WINDOWS.

Reports received here described the scenes attending the fire as horrifying. The inmates of the asylum were uncontrollable and many of them were said to have leaped from high windows. Others in bewilderment crouched in terror near the windows until the flames caught them.

Owing to the intensely cold weather, the mercury registering 20 degrees below zero, the water in the hydrants about the building was frozen and little could be done to stay the progress of the flames. News of the tragedy was slow in reaching here owing to a lack of direct wire communications.

FLEEING GIRLS CARED FOR.

According to the advices received here many of the girls who fled in terror from the scene were located by villagers, who took them to their homes before they were gathered in a hospital. Thirty girls who were students at a convent adjoining the asylum, which also was burned, are said to have had narrow escapes.

The sister who perished did so in an endeavor to save a patient.

The building was the property of the Sisters of Charity of Quebec. It was a large building, capable of handling considerably more than the number of inmates that were in the place at the time.

The loss is approximately $200,000, and the amount of insurance is small.

SWISS NEUTRAL, BUT BOUND TO GUARD SELVES

GENEVA, via Paris, Jan. 1, 3:30 a. m.—President Schulthess of Switzerland sends the following message for 1917 to the American people through the Associated Press:

"Switzerland, surrounded by four great nations at war and faithful to its secular traditions, is determined to maintain her absolute and loyal neutrality in this terrible conflict. The Swiss people, banded about their flag, are ready for every sacrifice to protect their independence, the integrity of their territory, their honor and national dignity. They are convinced that all their neighbors will respect their decision, but whatever happens never will they allow a foreign army to invade their soil.

"The oldest democracy in the world sends fraternal wishes to her great sister republic, to the American people, and to their illustrious president. Switzerland hopes to be able to salute with the United States the coming of peace in the year which commences. In the meanwhile Switzerland finds her moral satisfaction in giving hospitality and caring for the victims of the war, regardless of their nationality, and also in foreshadowing a happier future by showing that peoples of different languages and races can not only live in peace but even form a single nation."

CERTIFIED MILK 18 CENTS TODAY

Increased cost of feed and labor is responsible for the increased cost of certified milk, according to Dr. James Warren Van Derslice, secretary of the Chicago Medical society's certified milk commission. The new price of 18 cents a quart—an increase of 3 cents—is to take effect today, he said.

Wizard Inventor of Rare Foods Dies a Suicide

Thomas H. Fields, savant in the field of epicurean delights, originator of finnan haddie Delmonico, stuffed lobster, and a dozen other zestful contributions, viewed the new year with foreboding last night. He was 51 years old. He heard he was about to be discharged. When his wife returned to their home at 3225 Broadway she found her husband dead. There were several open gas jets.

Fields had been steward of the Café Royale, formerly Rector's, for many years. He was for twenty years the personal aid of Charles Rector, the famous restaurateur. For the last fifteen years he had been steward under the management of E. J. Wittebort, manager of the Café Royale.

Near Fields' body was found a note to his wife. It said:

"My dear little wife and pal: I hope you will forgive me for what I am about to do. I see no way out of it. I have lost my job and am too old to start over again. And I can't stand to see your tears. Be a good girl, as you always have been.

"I have done no wrong. I know this will be a sad blow, but I can't see any other way out of it. Have them take me home. . . . You will always have a home in Seaford, Del.

"Say good-by to all for me, and don't let them say anything against me, as I have always been on the square. . . . Say good-by to Dix and George, and tell them not to think hard of me. I will say good-by with all my love—and you are the only girl I ever loved. O, how happy we could have been could I only have had money."

Employers Are Puzzled.

Both Wittebort, manager, and Harry Martin, assistant manager of the Café Royale, said they could assign no reason for the reports of Fields' discharge.

"He was regarded as one of the most famous of his business," said Wittebort. "He could have remained here as long as he wished. We heard yesterday he had grown dispirited over the loss of his place and I tried to reach him by telephone to reassure him, but failed."

EUROPEAN WAR SUMMARY

Germanic forces threaten important city of Braila in Roumania. After hard battle they capture positions of defenders north and east of Rimnik-Sarat. In Dobrudja the Bulgarians are making progress toward Matchin.

Hard fighting is in progress at many places on Russian front, and Petrograd admits German gains.

On the western front there was violent artillery fighting south of La Bassee canal, on both sides of the Somme, and northwest of Reims.

The official war statements from the various capitals will be found on page 4.

COMPLETE AIM BEFORE PEACE, DUMA IS TOLD

PETROGRAD, Dec. 30, via London, Dec. 31.—At the last session of the duma yesterday Prof. Miliukoff, a leader of the Constitutional Democrats, emphasized the fact that the war was not yet at an end.

"We must say loudly that we will not give up the fight until our aim is reached," he said. "The moral support of the entire nation will give weight to our decision. In the interior, as elsewhere, a complete change is necessary before the objects mentioned in the emperor's ukase can be achieved."

PROMOTION FOR ENGLAND'S WAR CHIEFS IN 1917

LONDON, Jan. 1, 12:40 a. m.—A long list of naval and military honors conferred on the occasion of the new year includes the promotion of Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British forces in France and Belgium, to be a field marshal; Sir Henry Seymour Rawlinson to be a general, and Lieut. Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, commanding the forces in East Africa, to be an honorary lieutenant general.

CHICAGO HAS A SANE "EVE"; COUP IN HOTELS

Erstwhile Cafe Celebrants Rent Rooms and Fete Guests There.

Old Sane Fourth, who has been stalking around Chicago for several years all alone, picked up a companion last night. He is Decent New Year's.

And they are a chummy pair.

Decent New Year's came in with a blast of horns and whistles and a ringing of bells. He paused at midnight to slake his thirst at the one-hour oasis. One o'clock arriving, he wiped his lips on his coat sleeve and went home to bed.

STIFF, STAID STATE STREET.

It was not like the old days—or nights. State street, which ordinarily is a canyon of howling hospitalers of a New Year's eve, was a dignified, staid thoroughfare, frowning down upon the infrequent raucous toot of the tin horn and the extremely seldom whoop of the vinous celebrant.

Clark and Randolph streets, where usually the maelstrom of shirt fronts, silk hats, evening toilettes, and flittering hosiery carries every receptive soul unprotestingly into its whirl, was a foggy crossroads.

RULERS OF GLUMLAND.

Chief Healey and First Deputy Schuettler looked over the situation, and after the manner of a man placing his purse in a safe and his safe in a vault, arranged the following precautions:

One hundred policemen, 150 mounted policemen, sixteen detectives in the cafes, twenty detectives for saloons, fifteen detectives to watch for pickpockets.

At 10 o'clock fifty policemen went on duty in the loop. There were orders to take evidence against every violator.

SOME LID LEAKAGE.

Though the liquor lid was clamped tightly, the slight fissure permitted in the hour between midnight and 1 o'clock seemed ample for the consumption of abundant liquids.

Violations of the 1 o'clock closing ordinance were reported to Lieut. Enright of the central detail. He declared City Prosecutor Miller's office probably will be flooded tomorrow with applications for summonses for violators who did not strictly observe the law by not having their respective cafés free of New Year's revelers at 1 o'clock, as required by law.

LOOP CAFES OFFEND.

Nearly every downtown café, including those of hotels, violated the law in this respect, Lieut. Enright said. As an instance the lieutenant cited the College Inn. Although the bar in connection was closed at 1 o'clock, he said, about 400 persons still remained in the café afterward, some of them consuming drinks they had purchased before that time and others eating. This is a violation.

Also the police regulations were given a swift surprise in the operation of a stunt that was not made public until too late for a legal interpretation of any rights that might be contested. In several of the principal hotels rooms had been engaged in advance, and thenceforward had been sent liquors in plenty. These were given the title of "private parties," and the "host" in each instance was not disturbed in the entertainment of guests.

MANY USE PARTY SYSTEM.

At the Hotel La Salle it was announced that many persons who last year celebrated in cafés resorted to the "party" system. Manager Stevens said that not only were many of the small rooms occupied but the red and east rooms were rented for large parties. A private party of 200 persons occupied the red room. The liquor was delivered shortly after midnight.

But the "one-hour oasis" seemed to find plenty of devotees. In the Café Royale it was announced that the receipts fell $10,000 behind the receipts of a year ago. Two hundred persons were at tables where in 1916 there were 800 reservations.

MORRISON GAYEST SPOT.

The Hotel Morrison went "one better" than the La Salle's room plan. A floor, embracing a large banquet hall, was one of the gayest spots in the loop. Many celebrators with fat purses were tipped to retreat to this floor after 1 o'clock, and there liquor continued to be consumed, with the nearest approach to the old time abandon [illegible] the rule to Chicago's welcome to the new year.

Harry Moir, the Morrison manager, had [illegible]

[illegible] five minutes in advance of 12 o'clock. From that moment on there was something doing until past 1 o'clock, despite police orders.

CONGRESS BAR NOT OPEN.

The Congress hotel was extremely quiet. The bar was not open and no drinks were served in the café. About 150 persons were dining after midnight. The Stratford bar was open, but with few patrons. More than 500 persons flashed out and on again at midnight, and then the celebration opened. Closing was at 1.

Society people were present in the gathering of the Bal Tabarin in the Hotel Sherman. This was a more severely conducted affair, with champagne served unostentatiously and all guests were at table in the café.

The College Inn was a blaze of glory. Nothing but wine was served and only in quart bottles. The theatrical profession was well represented, there being present Eva Tanguay, Al H. Woods, Fanny Brice, the Dolly sisters, Ralph Herz, and others. The lights were in evening clothes.

ONLY PARTIES OF FOUR.

In the Lambs' café nothing was sold but champagne in quarts, and while there seemed a fair crowd there was a rule at the door that none but parties of four and over be admitted.

Not more than 100 persons were gathered in the Blackstone hotel, and in the marble room of the hotel, which can accommodate 1,000, there were just six persons seated shortly after midnight. Fewer than 160 dined in the Auditorium hotel.

Bismarck garden did the largest business of any gathering place in the outskirts, 2,500 persons being reported in the Palais de Dans and the Marigold room. Some of the gayety of the affair was removed when Manager Joseph Spogat was arrested the morning before for keeping the palais open too long. Sergt. Cudmore of the Town Hall station and five patrolmen remained to see that all were out at 1 o'clock.

Detectives on Guard.

Two detectives remained on guard at the Winona gardens at Broadway and Winona avenue. There were fewer than 150 persons in the café, and life was dull, indeed.

The roads to Hammond, Burnham, and other suburbs where roadhouses are were crowded with automobile loads of merrymakers who were seeking "havens" where the wine flows freely.

Forest Park saloons and cafés did a rushing business and hundreds of automobiles brought patrons out early in the evening who remained through the night. Slot machines were uncovered and the lid lifted to "a fare you well."

Below the "dead line" there was little to describe. "Big Jim" Colisimo's café was filled with a cork popping clientele, but there was quiet and good behavior. In Freiberg's there was dancing and drinking, but no noise or rowdyism was permitted.

And furthest down the line the down and outs gather 1 in the barrel houses in lower State and Clark streets and wished the old year on its way. Most of the barrel house gatherings were of the Sunday evening sort.

EUGENE BEIFELD ARRESTED.

Eugene Beifeld, as manager, and Arthur Fox, a waiter, were arrested early yesterday in the Bal Tabarin club on the mezzanine floor of the Hotel Sherman. It is charged liquor was being sold contrary to the Sunday law.

It also was reported that eighteen persons were drinking in the King Joy Lo Chinese restaurant at 57 West Randolph street and that twenty-two perteen other saloon men and café owners were arrested for violations of the closing law.

Eight men and four women were arrested in the Bungalow café at 2128 West Madison street.

WED AT MIDNIGHT

Kenosha Couple Who Were Last (1916) and First (1917) to Marry in Loop.

Mr. and Mrs S. J. Russakov

The last wedding of 1916 at downtown hotels was that of Dr. S. I. Russakov of Kenosha, Wis., and Miss Ethel Goldberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goldberg, also of Kenosha, who were married in the east room of the Hotel La Salle at midnight by Rabbi Messing, of Chicago.

The wedding was celebrated here to avoid a "fussy" New Year's affair at home, and in order to give the bride and bridegroom a good start New Year's day for California, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will live in Kenosha after Washington's birthday.

YOUTH ADMITS CHICAGO CRIMES TO COAST POLICE

Tells Los Angeles Bureau He's Kenyon G. Peterson, Wanted Here for Holdups.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—A youth giving the name of Kenyon G. Peterson, 21 years old, who says he is the son of F. W. Peterson, an official of the Oxwell Railway service, whose home is at 4245 North Ashland avenue, Chicago, came to detective headquarters here today and announced that he was wanted in Chicago for holding up the Ravenswood station of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad on Nov. 28, obtaining $30. On Dec. 5, according to his story, he held up the Cathay inn at Lincoln and Belmont avenues and took $40 from a Chinaman.

Shortly after 1 o'clock this morning Peterson stepped into police headquarters and inquired of Detective Lieut. U. L. McIntosh, "Is there any one here who wants Kenyon G. Peterson of Chicago?"

Tells Him to Wait.

McIntosh told the young man to wait a moment and he would see.

Peterson laid an automatic pistol and a bottle of chloroform on the lieutenant's desk, together with a number of papers and letters from women in Chicago bearing addresses of the best section of that city. He then told the officers of a trail of worthless checks he had left from Chicago to Tacoma, Wash., San Diego, and Los Angeles.

He said he had started with the idea that as a successful holdup man he could earn with his wits and gun about $1,000 a month, and because of his inability to do so he considered himself a dismal failure and decided to give himself up.

He Destroys Photographs.

Peterson asked to be allowed to destroy some of the photographs and letters he had in his possession, before giving the detectives a detailed account of his alleged escapades with "beautiful society belles" he captivated.

"To the honorable Peter" from "The Princess Incognito" was the address on one letter written on railway stationery en route to the coast from Chicago. The letter, written in a graceful, feminine hand, read: "Just a wee message to the Chicagoite from the Blackberry," who, it appeared, thought "It's been jolly sport meeting you, and I do like you just oodles, dear train companion."

There were in his possession several letters from Chicago women, among them a Miss Frances Kientzinger of 4877 North Hermitage avenue.

MEDICAL STAFF CHOSEN

Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson yesterday enlisted the coöperation of the Chicago Woman's club in opening "the finest contagious disease hospital in the world," the city's new institution at Twenty-first street and California avenue.

With the assistance of the clubwomen, Dr. Robertson said he would have the hospital open to receive the first patient a week from today. Mrs. W. R. Cubbins, chairman of the meeting, was appointed by Dr. Robertson as head of a committee to select the nurses for the hospital.

Dr. Robertson also announced that he had named Dr. A. J. Ochsner, Dr. D. A. K. Steele, and Dr. A. Augustus O'Neill as a committee to select the superintendent for the new institution.

New Name Is Proposed.

The club women pledged themselves in a resolution to further the interests of the hospital and work for a larger appropriation for the health department. In another resolution they recommended that the institution be named the "Fred C. Cotton hospital," in honor of a pioneer Chicago specialist in children's diseases.

"We are on the verge of a contagious disease epidemic," said Mrs. Cubbins, "and we are vitally interested in providing sufficient protection for our children, both in the way of hospital accommodations and preventive measures."

Fears Infantile Paralysis Spread.

"I want your influence and assistance to get the fund I ought to have," Dr. Robertson said. "The finance committee has ordered me to make a 25 per cent cut in spite of the fact that Chicago spends only 40 cents per capita for health purposes as against $1 spent by New York.

"Dr. Flexner says he is fearful that the infantile paralysis epidemic will spread next year to the west. If that happens we may have to use the new hospital entirely for those cases."

Other speakers were Dr. W. K. Murray, head of the city hospital bureau; Dr. Steele, Dr. O'Neill, Dr. William L. Noble, and Clayton Smith, warden of the county hospital.

Manufacturers, Wholesale and Retail Distributors

OUR unswerving zeal to do many things better than they ever were done before has been marked, during the year just ended, not alone by the successful development of our comprehensive manufacturing plans, but also by the fact that in distribution we have surpassed the high volume of preceding years.

Our retail store has exceeded all records—made possible by a highly specialized organization that responds readily to public demands, acts on accurate knowledge of merchandise, and has for its goal the highest standards in quality.

Our large manufacturing activities, embracing up-to-date mills in various parts of the country, have progressed to meet constantly growing demands—the fruit of our firmly established standards of excellence in merchandise. During 1916 we increased in size our already extensive manufacturing plants located at Spray, North Carolina, also completing our wide sheeting mill and underwear mill, both of which now are in operation. These undertakings have been an important factor in surpassing the wholesale store's previous records in distribution throughout the country.

The expert knowledge and ideals applied by us in manufacture and distribution have met with national esteem—shown in the respect that retail distributors have for our standards. This response makes it necessary for a still further increase in the coming year in our manufacturing activities, and for this purpose many acres of land have been set aside and plans matured.

We take this opportunity of thanking the public for its confidence in our business, a confidence that always has compelled us to appreciate our great responsibility to it, and impelled our service to respond to its ever-increasing demands.

Master Exhibition of Southern Tourist and Early Spring Modes

There is now on exhibition at the Blackstone Shop the most delightful and complete showing of Gowns, Frocks, Suits, Coats and Millinery. The showing of Sports Clothes and Bathing Suits is irreproachable.

Our afternoon and evening apparel is more wonderful than ever.

Surpassing in splendor and majestic beauty all former expositions of modes, we are proud of our ability to extend to you a warm welcome to view our early spring creations.

FINE CLOTHES

AN EVENT OF IMPORTANCE TO EVERY GOOD DRESSER

This store's reputation as retailers of the highest grades of clothing, exclusively, is well established. We announce a complete clearance of fall and winter lines, beginning tomorrow morning at the following sharp reductions:

All $25 Business Sack Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters now reduced to $18.75

All $30 Business Sack Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters now reduced to $22.50

All $35 Business Sack Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters now reduced to $26.25

All $40 Business Sack Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters now reduced to $30.00

Finer grades, up to $75.00, are reduced in proportion

THE common custom of "filling in" to prolong the life of a sale is not practiced by Capper & Capper. Our clearance sales are confined strictly to our own regular lines of merchandise. The advantages, therefore, of making selections early should be apparent to all.

RAIL WALKOUT DISTANT, MANY LEADERS AGREE

Roads Will Start New Year Right with Switchmen Satisfied, It Is Said.

However the situation may develop within the next few days, the railroads of the country will start the new year right—by running on schedule service, unhampered by a strike.

Officials of labor organizations in Chicago yesterday supplemented statements made in Cleveland on Saturday by Warren S. Stone and W. G. Lee, heads of the railway engineers' and railway trainmen's brotherhoods respectively, who said it was highly improbable that a strike would be called at once.

Stone and Lee Fail to Come.

Stone and Lee were expected by members of the local switchmen's and locomotive engineers' unions to come to Chicago during the day, but it could not be learned they had arrived. At a late hour they had not registered at the Great Northern hotel, which is headquarters for the brotherhood officials whenever they come to Chicago.

John Fitzpatrick, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, believed a strike was only a remote possibility, and reiterated his opinion that the switchmen, having recently been granted an advance, would not be likely to go out at this time.

The same feeling was shared by representatives of the railroads.

Holden Sees No Strike.

"I have heard of nothing which would indicate that a strike was likely to be called tomorrow or any time next week," said Hale Holden, president of the Burlington railroad and chairman of the committee of railroad presidents which conferred with President Wilson last August on the Adamson law.

"There have been no meetings today of either employers or union officials to discuss the matter," he added.

ADAMSON LAW TODAY.

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—The Adamson eight hour day law for railroad workers is scheduled to become operative tomorrow without any one expecting it to be enforced.

The climax of a great, if not the greatest, peaceful labor struggle in this country, the first entry of congress into regulating hours of a nation-wide industry, the object of dissatisfaction by capital and labor alike, the capsheaf of an epochal presidential campaign and the subject of a lawsuit carried swiftly to the highest court in the land, the eight hour day law approaches the day of its initial operation without the slightest possibility of being observed.

The railroad companies are united in opposition to it, and the employés it purposes to benefit are exhibiting a divided the lukewarm support of it. Strikes, sporadic and not as a protest against the failure to observe the law but the failure to grant that which the law seeks to compromise, are expected on various railroads, particularly in Chicago, Cleveland, and Buffalo.

No Strike Before Vote.

Railroad employés banded in the "big four" brotherhoods and in the Switchmen's union have not announced what action they will take, but the intimation by the chiefs of the brotherhoods is that nothing will be done at present.

Until a referendum of the workers can be taken the conductors, trainmen, engine drivers, and firemen in powerful brotherhoods with approximately 400,000 members, will not strike and tie up the nation's railroad system. But that a strike will be a matter of immediate consideration in case of an adverse decision by the Supreme court is conceded generally.

ASKS GREATER CO-OPERATION.

An appeal for thorough coöperation and an even greater standard of efficiency was made at midnight by President Daniel Willard of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad by telegraph to all employés. President Willard extended his greetings to his fellow officers and employés and explains that inasmuch as it is impossible for the road to readily adjust its charges it is his hope that all employés will pull together for a "more liberal consideration."

VILLA ARMY OF 7,000 FIGHTING MURGUIA BAND

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31.—Fighting is in progress between the advance guard of Gen. Francisco Murguia's force of 7,000 men and Villa's army of at least equal size at a point between Santa Rosalia and Jiminez, according to the reports of passengers arriving here today from Chihuahua City.

Villa Chief Takes Mulato.

Presidio, Tex., Dec. 31.—Luis Montoria, a Villa chief with a hundred men, has occupied Mulato, twenty-five miles southeast of Ojinaga, following its evacuation by the Carranza garrison, it was learned here today from a trustworthy source.

A report also reached here that the Villistas took San Antonio, a town fifty miles southeast of Ojinaga, without resistance and that its garrison of twenty-five men under Capt. Chico Cano went over to them.

NEWFOUNDLAND BEGINS 1917 DRY

St. John's, N. F., Dec. 31.—At midnight tonight the whole island of Newfoundland goes "dry." A prohibition act becoming effective stops the import, manufacture, or sale of intoxicating liquors or any alcoholic compound will be obtainable within the colony, except for medicinal, manufacturing, or sacramental purposes. In order to prevent evasion of the law a long list of patent medicines has been placed under the ban.

Mrs. Elmer W. Miller
PHOTO ROOT

Haste sometimes is an essential in the matter of marriage, but when Elmer W. Miller and Miss Ethel G. Smith decided to wed there wasn't even time to have the bride photographed in her bridal veil. But this didn't disturb Mr. Miller. Like his bride, he is an artist, and while she was preparing her gown he seized a brush and some "China white" and painted the veil on a photograph, and there it was. Mr. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Miller of Jacksonville, Ill., and Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Smith of Berwyn. They will be at home at 3441 Howe avenue, Berwyn.

NEW YORK DRY BUT NOISY ON NEW YEAR'S EVE

New York, Dec. 31.—When the chimes of "Old Trinity" heralded the coming of 1917 at 11:50 o'clock tonight New York greeted the announcement with its usual carnival of noise, but it was the driest New Year's eve the city had seen in many years.

In the face of Mayor Mitchel's threat to revoke licenses, revelry ceased in hotels and restaurants promptly at 1 o'clock.

In recompense New Yorkers will be permitted to drink to the health of 1917 until 3 a. m. tomorrow night.

But the mayor placed no ban on a boisterous demonstration at midnight. The sirens of river craft joined in the chorus of church bells as the hours struck. Countless thousands in the streets added to the din.

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX CATCHES LETTER ANNOYER

Passion Poetess, In California, Has Chicago Police Trap Second "Crones."

Savo B. Ljutica, a chef, 125 Throop street, was arrested last night by Detective Sergeants Otten and Ryan.

Chief of Detectives Charles L. Larkin received a letter during the day from Mrs. Ella Wheeler Wilcox, poet and writer, from her home in 1756 Walton place, Hollywood, Cal., stating that Ljutica had been annoying her with letters which she said seemed to be the product of a disordered mind.

With this letter was a copy of the letter Ljutica had written her and his picture which he had sent her.

Asked for Money.

Mrs. Wilcox wrote that she had received letters from the man saying he knew she was a prophetess and that he was a prophet, philosopher, and psychologist himself. He requested her to send him money so that he could meet her for a conference.

Mrs. Wilcox wrote she believed the man to be of unsound mind. When the detectives went to Ljutica's home he at first said, "I'm Jean Crones; hurry up."

At the detective bureau he later admitted he was not Crones, but said that he knew Crones.

Letters Are Forwarded.

Ljutica had cards bearing the inscription "Master Savo B. Ljutica." He was formerly a chef at the Milwaukee Athletic club.

CURTAINS FOR LUNDIN'S MEN AT CITY HALL?

On the theory that "Lundin's sun has set," city hall gossip is deposing the men credited to Fred Lundin and naming their successors. The rumors have eliminated City Electrician Keith, City Purchasing Agent Rohm, and President Coffin of the civil service commission via the resignation route. Of these three, Capt. Coffin has already indicated a desire to "get out."

Mr. Rohm may be supplanted by Deputy Commissioner of Public Works W. H. Burkhardt. Keith is said to be ready for the skids because of criticism heaped on him as a result of his threat to turn out city lights. If Mr. Burkhardt is promoted, he will get a $6,000 job in place of his present $5,000 one.

Mayor Thompson has two vacancies to fill—chief of police and superintendency of streets. Close advisers of the mayor say it will be a matter of days before First Deputy Schuettler is appointed chief, while Felix Mitchell and William J. Galligan, both assistant superintendents in the street bureau, are being mentioned for the place as head of the bureau.

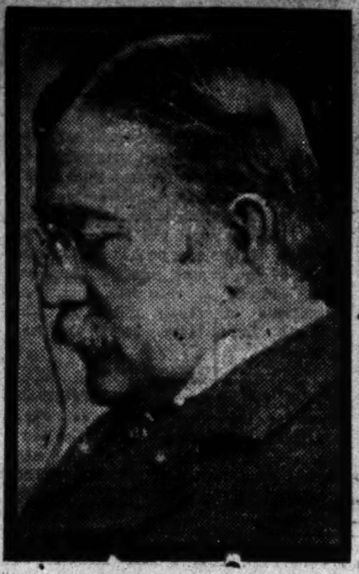
Born Dec. 13, 1846. Died Dec. 31, 1916.



Summit, N. J., Dec. 31.—Dr. Hamilton Wright Mabie, associate editor of the Outlook, died at his home here today. He was 70 years old and was born at Cold Springs, N. Y. He is survived by a widow and one daughter.

Dr. Mabie was once characterized by Dr. Henry Van Dyke as "one of our most influential American educators, working outside of the curriculum." Some of his best known works are "Norse Stories, Retold from the Eddas," "Nature in New England," "Short Studies in Literature," "The Life of the Spirit," and "Life of Shakespeare."

He had traveled extensively. Three years ago he was received by the emperor of Japan at Tokio, while on a lecture tour of Japan.

NINE CARLOADS OF FRENCH WAR EXHIBIT ARRIVE

Captured German Taube and Parts of Zeppelin Part of Military Show.

In record breaking time nine carloads of the war exhibit loaned by the French government to the allied bazaar to be held in the Coliseum on Jan. 11 to 20 reached Chicago yesterday, just one week ahead of its scheduled time.

The early arrival of the display disconcerted bazaar officials because the space allotted to it in the Coliseum Annex had not been prepared. All other work of preparation will stop, however, until the articles, which are valued at $900,000, are hurried to the annex.

Included in the shipment are five carloads of aeroplanes. One is a famous German taube which was captured after a thrilling battle hundreds of feet up in the air. Portions of a great Zeppelin, brought to earth by French aeroplanes are also part of the exhibit.

Huge French guns manufactured to make reply to the German forty-two centimeters are loaded on flat cars. The display of guns ranges from these monsters to several famous French "seventy-fives" and on down to small sidearms.

Thousands of photographs, taken under the supervision of the French government, form one of the most popular parts of the exhibit, according to bazaar officials who saw the display at the New York and Boston bazaars. The pictures are several feet in size and reveal war as no other pictures ever have.

ISSUE REPORTS GIVING DETAILS OF WAR'S RESULT

ROUMANIAN FRONT

GERMAN

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—In the frontier mountains towards Moldavia the fighting continues to be favorable for us. North of the Uzul valley German troops captured Solymtar height from the Russians and maintained it against strong counter thrusts. On both sides of the Oituz valley German and Austro-Hungarian regiments took Roumanian and Russian positions. They made gains in the Putna valley in the course of hard fighting. Near Nereyu, in the Zabala valley, our troops advanced.

Front of Field Marshal von Mackensen—The troops of Lieut. Gen. von Morgen and Lieut. Gen. Kuehne encountered strong resistance north and northeast of Rimnik-Sarat, especially on the edge of the mountains. By a strenuous attack they succeeded in entering the hostile position and repulsing strong counter attacks. Between Rimnik-Sarat and the Buzaul lowlands our troops gained ground after violent fighting.

The Danube army is fighting its way towards the strongly fortified line between Guengeti, west of Braila, and Ciucia, southwest of Braila. The Russians have been thrown back to the bridgehead of Braila, against which our attack progresses.

In Dobrudja Russian points of support east of Matchin have been captured. We are progressing towards Matchin.

RUSSIAN

PETROGRAD, Dec. 31.—On the Moldavian frontier the enemy launched stubborn attacks in the valley of the Sulta river and south of this valley. All these attacks were repelled.

In the region north of the Doftiana river and south of the Oituz valley fierce battles continue. The enemy succeeded, after repeated attacks, in taking possession of several heights in front of our positions south of the Oituz river, compelling us to retire to a new position.

The enemy continues to make stubborn attacks on the Roumanian front, on the upper Kasino river, at the Moldavian frontier. In the region northwest of Sevej, on the upper Sushitza, the enemy assumed the offensive, defeated the Roumanian troops, and captured a large number of prisoners and a machine gun company.

In the morning the enemy began an attack on the Roumanian front near the village of Kosa, on the upper stream of the river Putna. The heights in this vicinity changed hands several times and eventually remained in possession of the enemy. Attacks by the enemy near the village of Bordeschi, southwest of Fokshany, continue. Our detachments and Roumanian troops, as a result of an attack, dislodged the enemy from the village of Bordeschi, which he occupied yesterday.

Enemy attacks in the region of the Bezeu-Braila railway line and near the village of Bordoeuverbe, south of the Yanka station on the same railway, were repelled.

RUSSIAN FRONT

RUSSIAN

PETROGRAD, Dec. 31.—Northwest of Zborow our scouts attacked an enemy outpost in the region of Prisovoe and in a hand to hand struggle annihilated part of the post. The others were taken prisoner.

In the region west of Koniushki a party of our scouts, having worked to the rear of an enemy guard post, broke into the trench and captured the whole guard, consisting of nine men.

On the river Bystritza a successful reconnaissance was made by our scouts in the regions of Dzvinlach and Krichta villages.

GERMAN

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—On the Russo-Galician front the activity of the artillery increased south of Jacobstadt.

FRENCH FRONT

FRENCH

PARIS, Dec. 31.—South of the Somme we carried out last night an attack on a small German post south of Chilly. We took prisoners. No event of importance occurred today.

In the course of the year 1916 the French troops in breaking the assault of the enemy against the Verdun fortress, forcing the enemy to withdraw on both sides of the Somme, have taken 78,500 German prisoners.

BRITISH

LONDON, Dec. 31.—Southeast of Le Transloy the enemy's defenses were effectively bombarded during the day. An enemy ammunition dump was blown up as the result of our fire.

The enemy's artillery has been somewhat more active than usual in the neighborhood of Martin puch.

GERMAN

BERLIN, Dec. 31.—The artillery fighting was violent at times south of La Bassee canal, on both sides of the Somme, and northwest of Reims.

ITALIAN FRONT

ITALIAN

ROME, Dec. 31.—There was the usual artillery fighting yesterday in the mountain area, east of Goritz, and on the Carso. Direct hits on the Carso caused the explosion of an enemy ammunition depot.

Auto Burns After Collision.

M. Wickhorst, 1267 Roberts avenue, Whiting, Ind., and A. W. Cothé, 712 Indianapolis boulevard, Whiting, narrowly escaped injury yesterday when an automobile in which they were riding skidded into a street car at Langley avenue and Sixty-seventh street, and the gasoline tank exploded, igniting the automobile. The car was demolished.

BISHOP'S ANNUAL FUR SALE

Begins Tomorrow at the stroke of 8!

There are fur sales in progress now. Other fur sales have been and will be announced. But the greatest fur sale of them all—the sale thousands of women look forward to every year, begins tomorrow morning at Bishop's. It's the greatest sale because it offers the finest furs, the largest and most comprehensive stock ever shown by any Chicago dealer, and at the lowest prices.

Bishop's reputation is one of almost sixty years' standing. This reputation has been maintained by consistently selling better furs at prices lower than can be found elsewhere. A dollar always has bought and always will buy a dollar's worth at Bishop's.

Now You Can Choose From Any Fur in Bishop's Stock at An ACTUAL REDUCTION of 20%

If you intend buying furs, the best opportunity of the winter is offered here beginning tomorrow morning. We earnestly advise that you buy tomorrow.

Note: Most all sizes can be had in these coats. All "Hudson Seal" Coats are Seal Dyed Musquash.

THE FAIR

SUGGEST ENEMY GIVE UP BELGIUM TO PROVE FAITH

British Assert Move Would Be Best Evidence That Germany Desires Peace.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Dec. 31.—The only point in the allies' reply to the German peace note which had not been anticipated is the concluding summary of Belgium's wrongs. This is held not only to epitomize in the most telling form the barbarity and ruthlessness of the German methods but also is thought to suggest that if Germany really desires to give some evidence of her sincerity she might most fitly begin by evacuating and reestablishing Belgium.

But it is thought hardly likely that Germany will willingly abandon such advantage, especially as it is her only practicable jumping off place for guerrilla naval warfare in the channel.

Interest is concentrated more than ever now on the allies' forthcoming answer to President Wilson. The importance of that answer is fully appreciated in the belligerent chancellories, where its terms are being most carefully considered.

May Tell Allied Aims.

The first feeling of chagrin which was aroused by its receipt has been greatly mollified, if it has not altogether disappeared, and the journalistic advice about merely reminding America how Lincoln received the European offers of mediation is not so much in favor as it was. The opinion now is strong in responsible quarters that, as far as can safely be done, the president's request for specific information on the allies' aims should be acceded to.

The president's desire for peace is understood, but the allies are agreed that it must be a peace at the expense of the central powers. As far as Britain is concerned, the opening of the new year is being heralded by a note of confidence in the results that must flow from the fullest development of Britain's military and civil resources, working toward a common end.

New Bread for Britain.

Tomorrow Britain will begin to bake a standard bread which it is claimed will effect a saving of 18 per cent on the consumption of flour, while providing a more nutritious kind of bread, and the public is quite ready to face the further measures of public economy about to be promulgated by the food controller.

Two meatless days per week are cheerily awaited, and no one believes anybody will be anything the worse for them, as the ordinary Englishman consumes twice as much meat as is necessary or good for him.

Will Give All Details.

PARIS, Dec. 31.—The answer of the entente powers to President Wilson's note, according to the Matin, will contain a long, detailed account of the origin and objects of the war. It will include also a declaration by the Belgian government "thanking the generous American nation for the immense services given during the last two years," and expressing its "confidence in America's friendly collaboration for the future."

CHURCH WIRES WILSON PRAISE OF PEACE NOTE

First Congregational of Evanston Makes It a New Year Message.

A message was sent to President Wilson just before the stroke of midnight last night by the congregation of the First Congregational church, Evanston. It was said to be identical with other messages sent by meetings held under the auspices of the American neutral conference committee.

The message read:

"To the president of the United States:

"Citizens here assembled send New Year's greetings. The year is dawning brighter throughout the world because you have dared to speak to the warring governments in the name of peace. The repressed peoples of the war ridden nations in the trenches and in countless homes are thanking you this day. We are with you heart and hand in your stand for peace. We pledge ourselves to support your further effort toward international good will and liberty for all nations."

A Few Days More of Gossard Corset Sale

WHILE Gossard Corsets have in the past few years always been offered at slight reductions during the month of January, we believe that this will probably be the last time you will have an opportunity to purchase fresh, clean, new Gossard Corsets at reductions.

Last week hundreds of women anticipated their future corset needs and made substantial savings.

In this choice offering are many materials which will not soon be duplicated, and it will be years before some of these materials are even manufactured again because of the prohibitive cost. While these corsets last you can make your selections at the prices quoted below.

Let us suggest that you shop in the morning, because this will give you more time for the selection of your corset and for the best of fitting service, regardless of where you select your corset.

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALES
Start Tomorrow

Prices have been radically reduced on merchandise in all departments of the house. This clearance reduction has been our custom for twenty-nine years, and is of vital importance now in view of rising prices on woolens, trimmings and labor.

To properly compute the savings afforded by these reductions, one must remember that prices on suits and overcoats will be fully 25% to 50% higher next season than heretofore. It will therefore pay you to buy clothing now for future use, and we urge immediate action, as this event is awaited by thousands.

THE ALLIES' REPLY.

To America the allies' reply to Germany will appear verbose and even obscure.

One of the greatest international communications of history, it lacks all the lucidity and beauty that characterized America's sublime effort, The Declaration of Independence.

It breathes passion, but it does not speak squarely.

A single sentence would have left its meaning unmistakable. The very length of this document qualifies its apparent meaning.

The literary shortcomings of the document are easily accounted for by the fact that it had to be written in five languages differing in construction and idiom—Russian, Italian, French, Japanese, and English.

Its final form as agreed upon by the conferees was not in English. It may have been in French, or it may have been in Russian. The literal translation resulted in clumsy English.

Clearly the note was written for home consumption and to steel the allied peoples to further trials. It contained no opening for amicable conference with Germany. There is no trace of "It is too bad all this happened" in it. Vigorously and with repetition it indicts Germany on all the counts of international criminality. If the writers had in mind affecting German opinion, the intention was to intimidate, not to conciliate.

The note was not addressed to Americans. If that purpose had been in the minds of the framers, they would have expressed themselves in clear English, the construction in Anglo-Saxon, not Latin or Slav. Perhaps it will read better in Spanish. South America may now be more important in international affairs than North America.

The allied diplomats appear to be in accord in purpose, but to have had a hard time in getting the summary of their views on paper.

The awkward conclusion specially mentioning Belgium shows that this paragraph was written after the original note was finished. It was added to please some special interest, probably Belgian. Those who labor under the delusion that this country is seriously considered in the world may think it was directed at American public opinion.

As far as can be read from the language of the note, it means that the governments of the allies are vigorously opposed to peace or peace negotiations at this time, and they are using the answer to Germany's peace overtures to present reasons to their peoples, especially to the continental peoples, for continuing the war.

But we cannot judge finally until the note in the language it was written reaches America and is translated into clear idiomatic English by an interpreter thoroughly conversant with both tongues.

INCLUDE THE AMERICAN INJURED.

The determination of the administration to retain 75,000 national guardsmen permanently on the border demands immediate effort on the part of private charity to relieve their families.

The government's management of the mobilization has been disgraceful. Its indifference to the welfare of the troops has been cruel. This has not been so of the citizens of the republic.

In the early days of the mobilization they gladly took up the duty which the government shirked.

Many private employers vied with each other in their efforts to retain the positions of their men at the front and to support their families at home. Enormous sums were collected by the Red Cross, a large part of which has been expended upon the troops.

Many employers are still looking after the needs of their men, but others have ceased because they have felt the burden intolerable, and others are unable longer to stand this unfair load.

Private assistance in the way of financial contributions has reached the vanishing point, due chiefly to the belief that the troops were soon coming home.

Now that it is announced the troops are to stay on the border, and stay indefinitely, immediate recourse must be had to private subscription to prevent intolerable suffering among the nation's defenders.

Unfortunately, there is at this moment no organization in the field to raise money for American soldiers. The only movement on foot which might be applicable to the needs of our soldiers is the allied bazaar. This creditable move to raise money for the allied wounded, while based to a certain extent on pro-ally sympathy, is rooted in the high ground of public charity.

The allied bazaar would add to its credit and to its receipts if it would devote a part of its proceeds to the American soldiers and their families.

HALIFAX VERSUS NEW YORK.

Because of our objection to harboring armed merchantmen it is announced that two of the largest British lines of passenger steamships, about to be armed, will reach this side at Halifax instead of New York. It is added also that news of their departure and arrival will be suppressed. The latter is hot possible while the port of New York is used. This move, while the trade routes are infested with enemy submarines, seems a wise and natural one.

From the same source comes an assertion which is not so plausible. It is that grain and munitions from the United States designed for Great Britain will be shipped from Halifax instead of from the ports of the United States. The lack of rail facilities in Canada will prevent this project from succeeding. There are but two very imperfect railroad lines over which such shipments could be made within the Canadian border and it is hardly likely that others will be built when the cessation of hostilities would render them unnecessary.

New York interests are at work to prevent this threatened injury to that port and pressure will be brought to bear upon the administration, not only to exclude German submarines from our shores, but to permit the entrance of armed merchantmen. Thus the whole question of these matters will be reopened and a flood of new notes will be let loose.

THE CITY'S RESOLUTION.

There was more murder in Chicago in 1916 than in 1915. Homicide was more frequent. Thievery, particularly in automobiles, was more popular. Otherwise, asserts the police report, crime in Chicago shows a considerable diminution.

If it is not safe to run a poker party it has been fairly safe in Chicago to carry a gun and safe to use it. Chicago has been using pistols. They have been popular weapons for gain and chastisement. When young men needed money they have stolen an automobile and gone to some small banker. If they could not get his money without shooting him they shot him. It was all part of the game. When the law did not immediately hang or incarcerate a bitter enemy, the quick and easy way has been to save the law some trouble by administering it privately. And if policemen interfered they have been put out of the way with bullets.

If Chicago has not a headache from overindulgence in violence in 1916 it ought to have.

Chicago has seen the habit of manslaughter growing and spreading. If the habit is not cured it will continue to grow. The fingers of Chicago youth clutch the stock of a revolver almost as readily as the handles of a wheelbarrow. Violence has been profitable in this city. As long as it is profitable and not too precarious it will be popular.

When the city makes its New Year's resolution it must be a resolution to eradicate murder and violent crime, to make honest business safer and more profitable than taking away by force the gains of honesty. Our resolution is to discourage the sentimental treatment of criminals by juries and the devices by which criminals and their attorneys avoid prosecution; to set our face rigidly against unwise pardoning of criminals; to prevent diversion of police activity from major crimes to minor crimes.

It may be bad for the city to indulge in gaming. It is worse for the city to indulge in murder. If we have not the machinery or the energy to eliminate both of these things, let us for the sake of our lives choose murder for destruction. It is the city's New Year resolution.

A USE FOR DIPLOMATS.

Russia's refusal to enter into any treaty relations with the United States is a rebuff as serious to this nation as any we can encounter commercially. To many Americans, remembering our friendly relations with Russia for scores of years, the situation is an unwelcome surprise. Russia is an undeveloped country of great natural resources; greater, perhaps, and less exploited than China's. It is an unparalleled field for commercial expansion, and our merchants have been regarding it as open for the asking.

What is, perhaps, the most uncomfortable part of the situation is the clarity with which our international situation is set forth. It is an indication of what the United States is to meet in after the war trade relations. They are trading with us now for their own convenience; they will trade with each other after the war for their own convenience. They are engaged now in a common effort of destruction; they intend to engage after the war in a common effort of reconstruction.

Our problem is further complicated by certain racial antagonisms.

We had thought to solve the problem in our happy go lucky way, and we have met a rebuff.

We became aware of the fact that we face a difficult problem in our foreign relations.

But the difficulty of the problem is equaled only by its importance. Our manufacturers must have a market for their products in Russia. We must establish trade relations with Russia.

Our differences undoubtedly appear greater than they really are. It is the work of diplomacy to whittle these down to a point where adjustment can be reached. That is what we hire diplomats for.

THE NONCOMMERCIAL PRESS.

Not all printing presses are given up to commercial uses—at least all of the time. Each holiday season for several years has seen issued from the Lakeside Press of Chicago a gift volume, not for sale, concerned with some feature, event, or epoch of American life. In this way a series of notable American orations has come forth, as have also several reprints of forgotten American historical works. This year the rare biography of Black Hawk, dictated by himself, marks the Lakeside issue. It is accompanied by a scholarly introduction from the pen of Milo W. Quaife of the University of Wisconsin, the whole preserving an unique bit of biography which no student of American history can afford to ignore. It is a pity, since the Fergus reprints have passed away, that these books cannot be had for general reading.

Nor is this all. Another gift book comes from an unexpected source. Who would expect belles lettres from Herrin, Ill.? Yet Hal W. Trovillion, an editor of that place, sends out a dainty booklet, "The Love Letters of Henry VIII.," distinguished alike by the good taste of its format and the excellence of its literary sponsorship.

Editorial of the Day

REVISERS OF THE BIBLE.

[From the Christian Science Monitor.]

Amongst the good things contained in Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch's recently published lectures entitled, "On the Art of Writing," is a remarkable tribute to the work of the forty-seven men who, over 300 years ago, compiled the Authorized Version of the Bible. "That a large committee of forty-seven," Sir Arthur says, "should have gone steadily through the great mass of Holy Writ, seldom interfering with genius, yet, when interfering, seldom missing to improve; that a committee of forty-seven should have captured, or even, let us say, should have retained and improved, a rhythm so personal, so constant, that our Bible has the voice of one author speaking through its many mouths; that, gentlemen, is a wonder before which I can only stand humble and aghast."

Sir Arthur recognizes to the full the genius of Wyclif, Tyndale, and Coverdale, but he regards the great era which they presaged as finding its fullest expression in the King James version. "When a nation," he says, "has achieved this manner of diction, those rhythms for its dearest beliefs, a literature is surely established. Just there I find the effective miracle, making the blind to see, the lame to leap. Wyclif, Tyndale, Coverdale, and others before the forty-seven had wrought. The authorized version, setting a seal on all, set a seal on our national style, thinking and speaking."

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Motto: How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

ANNUALLY, at this time, the self-styled human race exhibits a childish delight in making resolutions which it has small hope of keeping. It's about the best thing it does.

'Tis better to resolve and fail,
Than never to resolve at all.

THE reply of the Entente governments sounds as if it were first written in German, and then translated into the Schönste Lengevitch. It is as devoid of literary grace as a laundry list.

CHANSON DE PUNG.

Prate not to me of skate nor ski,
Nor bob nor sleigh nor cutter;
No western tongue nor bard has sung
The word I love to utter.

Now heed the call, Vermonters all,
And carol with a will,
This old time ballad of the pung,
The pung we used to fill.

"Come hitch old Roxy to the pung,
And let the wild bells jingle;
We'll skim the crust for twenty mile
With every nerve a-tingle.

"Up hill and down, by field and town,
And how that critter races;
At her best licks old Roxy kicks
The snow balls in our faces."

Thou good old pung, thy shafts are sprung,
Thy runners rust, I trow,
But still I praise those punging days
That all Vermonters know. PAN.

Boy, Page Mr. Buffet!

[Received by a mail order house.]

Dear Sir: As I was in your office 21 of November and saw your things and was well pleased with your stuffe but I wish I would of went and see the big building I would of saw some more. I would like for you if you would give me the name of the saloon just where the street car stops before the Union Stock Yards there is a saloon by the name of Buffet. I think it is as near as I can spell it. I got a gallon of whiskey ordered from there fore $4 to be sent to me by express and dident get it yet so it looks like they want to beat me out of the $4. I saw lots of saloons by that name and if they have a head office some where there would you kindly give me the address of there office or give me the name of the saloon it is right in the middle of the street. I would like to get my $4 if I can. Hoping to hear from you, your customer, etc.

BREVIER LIBRE.

[From Poetry for January.]

Dear Editor: Two slight poems of recent print are worth reappearance in brevier in the back part of Poetry for the benefit of those who missed them at the premiere. One is by Percy Hammond in the "Chicago Tribune," and reads:

The entourage of the American Derby was a bit blowsy,
Weeds, long grass, dust and grime and a melancholy prairie landscape.
A jaz band played "Pretty Baby" and "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."
Most of us sat in our shirt sleeves and drank beer out of bottles.

The other is titled "The Elephant," and is by Carmen Cerelli, who is 10 years old, going on 11, and a pupil in a New York grade school, where this piece was written in a school competition:

There stands the elephant,
Bold and strong—
There he stands chewing his food.
We are strengthless against his strength.

APROPOS of Book-Returning Day, W. A. B. says he uses in his bookplate the following jingle which he found in a book that belonged, more than a century ago, to a Scotch surgeon named John Mather:

If thou art borrowed by a friend,
Right welcome shall he be
To read, to study, not to lend,
But to return to me.

Not that imparted knowledge doth
Diminish learning's store,
But BOOKS, I find, if often lent,
Return to me no more.

"OLD FARMER'S HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES."

THE Atlantic Monthly Almanac for 1916 contains the following quotations from Bickerstaff's Boston Almanac for 1769. Lest misunderstanding arise I add some comments in brackets.

THE APOPLEXY—To prevent use the cold bath and drink only water. [A person who drinks no beverage except water decreases his chance of apoplexy.]

THE ASTHMA—Take a pint of cold water every night as you lie down in bed. [Will do little good. Perhaps may help by decreasing tendency to constipation.]

TO CURE BALDNESS—Rub the part morning and evening with onions till it is red, and rub it afterwards with honey.

BOILS—Apply a little venice turpentine.

CHILBLAINS—Apply salt and onions pounded together.

CHIN-COUGH or WHOOPING COUGH—Rub the feet thoroughly with hog's lard before the fire at going to bed and keep the child warm therein. [Will do neither harm nor good.]

A COLD—Drink a pint of cold water lying down in bed. [Will help some.]

A COLD IN THE HEAD—Pare thin the rind of an orange. Roll it up inside out and thrust a roll into each nostril. [I wonder if the aromatic oil could be of benefit.]

A CONSUMPTION—A beginning consumption was cured by drinking a decoction of guaiacum morning and evening for fifteen days [without sweating] with a light diet. Cold bathing has cured many deep consumptions. Or live on raisins and bread and drink only decoctions of barley and liquorice. [Guaiacum is still used somewhat as a remedy for consumption. The Old Farmer probably contributed nothing of value here.]

A CONSUMPTIVE COUGH—To stop it for a time at lying down keep a little stick of liquorice, shaved like horseradish, between the cheek and gums. I believe this never fails. [I think this a good suggestion. It will help to control useless coughing and will do so without causing harm. This cannot be said of patent cough medicines.]

AN INVETERATE COUGH—Use the cold bath. It seldom fails.

THE CRAMPS—[To prevent] Tie your garter smooth and tight under your knee at going to bed.

THE CRAMPS—[To cure] Stretch out the limb immediately.

DROWNED—Rub the trunk of the body all over with salt. It frequently recovers them that seem dead. [Proper advice when the rubbing is accompanied by artificial respiration. If salt is not handy rub without it at least until the salt arrives.]

DULL SIGHT—Drop in two or three drops of juice of rotten apples often. [Bad advice. Use no sort of drops in the eye for dull sight.]

A CHRONICAL HEADACHE—Keep your feet in warm water a quarter of an hour before you go to bed for two or three weeks.

THE RHEUMATISM—Use the cold bath, with rubbing and sweating.

THE HEADACHE—To be electrified.

A SORE THROAT—Take a pint of cold water lying down in bed.

A SPRAIN—Hold the part in cold water for two hours. [Good advice.]

A STICH IN THE SIDE—Apply treacle spread on hot toast.

TO CLEAN THE TEETH—Rub them with ashes of burnt bread.

TO PREVENT THE TOOTHACHE—Wash the mouth with cold water every morning. [Warm water and tooth powder is better.]

TO CURE THE TOOTHACHE—Be electrified through the tooth. Or keep the feet in warm water and rub them well with bran just before bedtime.

INABILITY TO SLEEP—Apply to the forehead for two hours a cloth four times doubled and dipped in cold water. I have known this applied to a lying-in woman and her life saved.

WHOOPING COUGH—A gentleman who has tried it says that yellow pond lily root, dried and pulverized, mixed with an equal quantity of honey and taken a spoonful at a time several times a day will not only relieve the whooping cough, but will cure it in a short time. [Not good advice. Pond lily is used as a source for tannic acid.]

Generally where cold bathing is necessary to cure any disease water drinking is used to prevent a relapse. [We find that the above was taken from John Wesley's "Primitive Physics."]

QUIT TOBACCO AND WHISKY.

A. A. writes: "In the last year I have had several attacks of unconsciousness which lasted about twenty minutes. I felt well on the succeeding days, but my breathing was difficult until I was well again. I was attacked generally after sleeping soundly. Hardening of the arteries is the cause, I have been told. Is smoking harmful to this ailment? Will drinking a glass of whisky every day harm me? What effect will eating mint have?"

REPLY.

Assuming that your trouble is hardening of the arteries, smoking is bad for it; so is drinking whisky, and also eating meat. If you will go on a diet of fruit, bread, and vegetables you will be better off. Attend to your bowels. Epilepsy is the cause of spells like this, at times.

OIL FOR CONSTIPATION.

J. H. G. writes: "I have been troubled with constipation, having had to take some kind of a purge almost every day, until I heard of 'stanolax,' an oil product. This was last spring, and since then have taken a tablespoonful daily and have had no trouble. Will you kindly give me your opinion as to the advisability of using this oil? Will it do me any harm in the long run?"

REPLY.

This is a form of mineral oil and will not harm you.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1917: By the Brentwood Co.]

YOUNG Lord Torrington, who is officially reported as missing, and whose death at sea is assumed, since all efforts through the American embassy at Berlin to trace him among the prisoners of war have proved fruitless, is one of those men who had "come back" since the beginning of the war—that is to say, who had redeemed their stormy past and rehabilitated their name by gallant service and heroism in behalf of their native land.

Lord Torrington started out in life under the most favorable auspices by acting as page of honor to King Edward on the occasion of his coronation. He was obliged to leave the army, in which he held a commission in the Rifle brigade, through his rather foolish marriage with a footlight favorite, Miss Eleanor Souray of the Gaiety theater, while he was suspended from the right of occupying his seat in the house of lords as ninth viscount and baron of his line, owing to financial difficulties consequent upon extravagance, and which landed him in the bankruptcy court. He was likewise deprived of his automobile license for repeated arrests for fast driving, and was constantly getting into trouble of one kind and another. In fact, about the only thing in which he achieved any success, until the beginning of the war, was as a gentleman rider.

Two years ago, however, he enlisted as an ordinary trooper in the Nineteenth hussars, along with nine other well known gentleman jockeys; and, dispatched with them to join the regiment in France, contributed in no small degree to add to its laurels, and, incidentally, rewon a commission.

Having a taste for the sea, possibly through inheritance, since the first Lord Torrington received his peerages for his victories as an admiral, the young peer managed to obtain his exchange from the hussars into the royal naval reserve, and ever since then had been engaged in the arduous and extremely perilous task of mine sweeping and patrolling the North sea and the English channel as second in command of one of the armed steam trawlers. The trawler on which he was serving has been lost, and that is why he is reported as missing and why his death is presumed.

Lord Torrington was the chief of the historic house of Byng, and his father, the eighth viscount, a veteran of the Indian mutiny, was one of the favorite and most trusted members of the household of Queen Victoria. It was her absolute refusal to dispense with his services as lord in waiting that led to the inauguration of the present system, whereby one lord in waiting remains permanently attached to the service of his sovereign, instead of changing with the cabinet.

The ancestral home of the Lords Torrington, Yotes Court, near Maidstone, in Kent, which was advertised for sale last year, is a beautiful place, surrounded by some of the grandest trees in the county, the mansion being filled with many family relics, including the cabin chair in which the unfortunate Admiral John Byng, fourth son of the first Lord Torrington, was shot, in 1757, after being sentenced to death by court martial, in Portsmouth harbor, on the quarterdeck of his own flagship.

The court, which was composed of admirals, acquitted him of the charge of cowardice which had been brought against him, but issued a verdict to the effect that he had not done his utmost to relieve Minorca when besieged by the French fleet.

According to the articles of war, the court had no alternative but to sentence him to death on this account. But they strongly recommended him to mercy on the ground that he had been sent to sea with a squadron poorly manned, inadequately armed, and in a most shameful condition, and that at the most he had been guilty of an error of judgment in refusing to accept the responsibility of engaging overwhelming French forces in the face of certain destruction. But George II., with his traditional obstinacy, declined to listen to a word in his behalf, and the unfortunate admiral paid the penalty with his life.

The first Lord Torrington was Admiral Sir George Byng, so famous for his victory over the Spaniards off Cape Passaro and at Messina at the beginning of the eighteenth century, and it is from one of his younger sons—namely: Robert Byng, governor of Barbados—that the earls of Strafford are descended. The late earl of Strafford, it may be remembered, married the widowed Mrs. Samuel Colgate of New York, who was Miss Cora Smith of New Orleans.

The late Lord Torrington leaves, it is understood, no issue by his marriage, and therefore his peerages and estates, which are heavily incumbered, go to his septuagenarian uncle, hitherto known as the Hon. Sydney Byng, a veteran of the One Hundred and Fourth regiment, who has hitherto made his home at Branksome, Hampton Hill, Middlesex, and who by his marriage to Miss Annie Chellingworth has a married eldest son, Lieut. Col. Arthur Byng, now serving at the front in France.

Lloyd-George enjoys the distinction of being the first solicitor to have ever attained the office of premier of Great Britain and Ireland.

The solicitors are, in point of social and official prestige, as well as in legal rank, inferior to the barristers; that is to say, the members of the bar, and are precluded from acting as counsel in any of the higher courts. But what they lose in this respect they gain in a monetary sense, since their branch of the legal profession is usually the more profitable of the two, for only a few barristers earn big fees, while thousands of solicitors enjoy large incomes.

The solicitors derive their name from the fact that in olden times, when the business of advocacy in the Court of Chancery was confined to the so-called six clerks, the latter were so overwhelmed with work that it was almost impossible for a suitor to get anything done in that court unless he managed, either by means of bribes or through interest, to secure the good will of one of the six clerks in question. For this purpose he employed men whose business it was to "solicit" the clerks, and to thus expedite the business.

The solicitors were first formed into a corporation in the reign of James I. Today there are some 18,000 of them on the rolls, which are kept by the judge known as the master of the rolls, in Chancery lane, London.

The solicitor, in order to make himself heard in any of the higher courts, or even at the assizes, must do so through a barrister; that is to say, a member of the bar, whom he briefs for the purpose. Inasmuch, however, as he is the go-between of the barrister and the client, and the recipient of all the fees paid by the latter, his calling is as a rule remunerative.

FILE APPLICATION FOR AUTHORITY.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Please advise me how to secure title to property consisting of buildings and other chattels, now on rented ground owned by two men whose wives and children are living in the buildings, the men having received bills of sale from original owners, which are now accessible. One of these men has deserted his wife and children after committing a crime, without leaving a power of attorney or other transfer of title, and cannot be found. G. B. H.

The deserted wife should file an application in court for authority to sell her husband's interest. After getting such authority, she should join with the other husband in a bill of sale. This is all that is necessary, in so far as the property consists of chattels. Buildings, however, are regarded ordinarily as real estate, and as to them, unless this is an exceptional case, in order to make clear title you must: [1] Secure a deed from the "original owners," i. e., from the parties from whom the present occupants derived title; [2] The deserted wife must get leave to sell as above, and [3], She and the other husband and wife must join in the deed.

WOULD TAKE ALL PERSONALTY.

Farmersville, Ill., Dec. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I have a daughter through a former marriage but no children by my present husband. In the event of his death without a will having been made, what portion of the property would I get? If a will is made leaving the wife a stipulated sum of money and the home for life, can she break such a will and demand her dower? C. E. S.

1. You would take all of your husband's personalty and one-half of his realty, with a life interest in one-third of the remaining one-half.

2. Yes. She can elect to take dower, or if there are no children to take one-half, subject to debts.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TITLE BY ADVERSE POSSESSION.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Twenty years ago I paid $100 on a building and lot. The owner of the building disappeared, and I have since paid all taxes on same. I have no receipt to show for the $100, it having been lost; neither have I any papers showing title of building and lot in my name. Is it possible for me to have title transferred to me? Does the fact that I have paid taxes for twenty years entitle me to ownership? A. F.

If you have occupied the premises under claim of right for twenty years you probably have title by "adverse possession." Your payment of taxes does not help the case materially, unless you have some sort of paper title. We cannot advise you further, since we are not in a position to investigate the facts.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

JUDGMENT MAY BE SECURED.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A signs lease for B. B cannot pay his rent. If B moves can landlord hold A's furniture? Can a lease be broken because of lack of heat? P. D. I.

If A signs as guarantor for B, and B fails to pay, then the landlord can get judgment against A and levy on A's interest in the furniture in excess of exemptions, which are $400 if he is head of a family—otherwise $100. It depends on the wording of the lease. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

DEPOSIT GUARANTEES AND BANK FAILURES.

Cedarville, Ill., Dec. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The last five years have been marked with the failures of sixty-five banks. Efficient banking laws would have prevented a majority of these cases and where failures could not be avoided depositors would not have lost a penny. These facts have been amply demonstrated in four of our states under a régime of state supervision of banks and a state guarantee system of deposits.

Such a plan has met with high approval by both bankers and the public in South Dakota. Deposits have increased during the last year some $20,000, three-fourths of the gain being attributable to the new statutes. There was one bank failure, and depositors were paid in full eleven days after the date of suspension.

In Nebraska the guarantee feature of the banking law is working out very satisfactorily. Kansas has 560 state banks out of 975 working under a guarantee system and the trend of public opinion is decidedly in favor of its continuance.

Oklahoma presents, perhaps, as vivid a picture of what the guarantee system will accomplish as could be wished. Practically a new state and a field of speculative operation where money passed daily from hand to hand in large sums, it was a veritable Utopia for the crooked bankers. Many bank failures have marked the short life of Oklahoma as a state, but it is to be noted that in every instance depositors have been paid in cash in full.

Of the total bank failures in the last five years, fifty-two have occurred in Chicago. A system such as these other states have adopted is what Illinois needs for the protection of her citizens.

DR. S. C. THOMPSON.

ARE GERMANS "FIGHTING MAD"?

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I would do nothing to fall from the pinnacle of politeness upon which Mr. Roder put me, in common with all Britishers, by his letter. But may I crave Mr. Roder's pardon if I show where he grievously errs in his letter—show it by quoting his own countrymen in directly opposite statements?

Mr. Roder says: "The average German is not fighting mad. He does not bother even to call the Englishmen names." Well, well! Can it be possible Herr Roder never read Lissauer's Hymn of Hate?

And as to being "fighting mad," what can the sanctified Bethmann-Hollweg have meant when he said in his speech before the reichstag Nov. 10, 1912:

"For months past we have been living, and we are living now, in an atmosphere of passion such as we have never before experienced in Germany. At the root of this feeling is the determination of Germany to make its strength and capability prevail over the world."

JOHN H. CLAYTON, M. A.

MAKE FOR PREPAREDNESS.

Elston, Ia., Dec. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—We occasionally see in your paper the articles written by Goldbeck criticised. Out in Iowa we think they are grand and add luster to your paper. Our country needs more such men. Our prayers are for more Goldbecks and Roosevelts and fewer of the type of Bryan and Ford. We think our army and navy would not be in such a deplorable condition and our country would be better prepared for defense.

M. H. DUNHAM.

HECKLERS OF HERRICK.

Chicago, Dec. 27.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I do not believe, Mr. Editor, that you are proud of the article by Prof. Herrick in your SUNDAY TRIBUNE of Dec. 24. You could not be and also be proud of THE TRIBUNE, just as little as I am proud of the fact that he belongs to my alma mater. Prof. Herrick—the conceited, the effeminate, the hysterical Prof. Herrick—is at his best in his latest curtain of fire. He scolds, he scorns, he implores, he laments—nay, he raves and screeches at those bloodthirsty Germans—and in it all there is not an atom of sense or judgment.

You, Mr. Editor, are also to blame. You most certainly should ask yourself of every article so prominently printed: What is its purpose? And what do we find here? Does the article tell us anything? Does it convince a reasonable man of anything? No, it is just the sort of poison that engenders interracial hatred—the sort that played such a tremendous part in bringing about the present catastrophe.

C. R. BORCHARDT.

Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 28.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It is a shame for a good newspaper like THE TRIBUNE to publish rubbish like Herrick's last Sunday. It is an insult to any German-American in this country.

C. N. KRETSCHMER.

DISCHARGING CITY SEALERS.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—A number of the deputy city sealers of the department of weights and measures are to be dropped from the staff. Through the efficiency of this department the public is protected against one of the worse crimes committed, shortweighting. If this department is cut down it will only mean that the people of Chicago will be at the mercy of the dishonest and unscrupulous dealer.

The finance committee by cutting down this department may save the city $6,000 or $7,000 a year, but the poor, now overburdened with the high prices, will be left unprotected and robbed of many thousands of dollars. The people of Chicago are entitled to the protection of this department, as it is just as necessary to the public as the police department, and, while these dishonest dealers do not go out with a gun and hold up people, the community will be made their innocent victims by receiving short weights.

The public should protest against having this protection taken from them. Let some of the other departments of the city which are not of such vital necessity to the poor be cut down, as in the majority of cases they are run at a far greater expense than the department of weights and measures. The honest dealer is also a victim of these shortweighters, as he will be compelled to compete with unfair competition.

CUM GRANO SALIS.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Edward Goldbeck's philosophy ought not be taken too seriously. He is simply giving us a little more German kultur and preaching the gospel of the kaiser, in place of Dr. Dernburg. Dr. Goldbeck's writing is certainly great stuff to read, providing one's stomach is in good condition and providing one has a sense for some German kultur. However, he should give us a little less of this German kultur and a little more American logic and help us keep President Wilson from getting mixed up with this German philosophy.

LAWSON OFFERS TO SHOW WILSON LEAK QUIZ NEED

Boston, Mass., Dec. 31.—An offer to convince President Wilson in an hour's interview of the wisdom of suggesting to congress an immediate investigation of stock market manipulations of the last two years is contained in a letter from Thomas W. Lawson of this city to Congressman Robert L. Henry, chairman of the house committee on rules, made public tonight.

In the letter Mr. Lawson renews previous statements that the so-called leak of last week was one of a series through which he says "the American people were robbed of hundreds of millions of their savings and a particular 'few' beneficiaries secured some sixty odd millions of direct plunder, some of which was 'split' with important people."

Wants Committee with Power.

The letter suggests that congress appoint a committee of investigations, with powers, made up of men "of the caliber of Justice Brandeis, Controller Williams, Senator Owen, and Congressman Henry," and that the committee begin its investigation at once in New York, "before books, papers, and other records can be destroyed."

The result, according to the letter, might be a sudden drop in the cost of living and "the complete exposure of the man who said to Germany, 'Give me fifty millions of margins and I'll end the war by making it impossible for the allies to finance themselves'; of his trip to the emperor for the perfecting of his scheme; of the return in an undersea boat of forty millions of American securities; of the smashing of the market and the dividing of the profits of over fifty millions and the beginning of a new smashing leak campaign."

Continuing, Mr. Lawson says he does not affirm that an investigation will show all these things, but that it will show the "truth or untruth of these stories which are beneath today's surface," and will at the same time show the working of a gigantic publicity opinion making affair—"working overtime to lay the blame of the leak disaster at the door of the associates of the greatest president since Lincoln, although these men were absolutely free from any entanglement with the affair."

Snow Bird Gun Toters Shoot at the New Year

Bert A. Aiken and his wife were arrested in a rooming house at 444 North State street last night after they had caused a disturbance by shooting through the door of their room. In their effects was found a quantity of morphine and several medicine droppers, of which they had contrived hypodermic syringes.

FAILURES OF U. S. TO RAISE ARMY TICKLE DR. JONES

Dr. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, speaking at the midnight peace meeting in Orchestra hall last night, said it was a "magnificent fact" that the young men of the United States refused to enlist for military preparedness.

Despite the "conspiracy of newspaper silence" and the "clamor for preparedness," said Dr. Jones, he was enraptured to know that few American youths had "responded to this wild, mad, silly call for preparedness."

"The newspapers," he added, after he had finished reading his manuscript and began an extemporaneous address, "may suppress, ignore, and ridicule, but the spirit of America is against the logic of force."

Miss Jane Addams Speaks.

Miss Jane Addams, making her first public appearance as a speaker in months, also mentioned the newspapers. She had no quarrel with "some of the papers," but others, she said, had been unfair to the peace propagandists in picturing them as peace at any price folk.

"What we desire," she said, "is peace at once, and a peace founded on justice and law. We desire to get away from the blind, old stupid method of going to war, for we believe that the universal public opinion is against war."

She said that the common philosophy that men always will fight, if provoked, either as individuals or nations, must be eliminated and the new thought of justice and law substituted.

Humanity Not at Fault.

"Human nature is not at fault," she said. "The trouble is we haven't yet dealt properly with this human nature. We don't seek to lay down any terms, but merely to ask that the nations now at war somehow stop their fighting long enough to see if they can determine among themselves just what it is they desire. We don't go into the cause of the war or the blame of it; that is past and gone.

"We must make the world understand that permanent peace can be based only on justice and law, and I believe we are going forward. We haven't found the way out yet in dealing with human nature the world over, but I firmly believe that every year brings the whole world of peoples closer together. The time is coming when we shall have no more wars, for men have decreed that it shall be so, and it will."

The meeting, held under the auspices of the neutral peace committee, came to an end just as the hundreds of automobile horns and engines in the Illinois Central yards let loose with the shrieking welcome to the new year. "America" was sung with the audience standing, and then Prof. George B. Foster pronounced the benediction.

ONE OF THE LARGEST OF THE HIGH-CLASS EASTERN SHOE MANUFACTURERS, ON BEING TOLD OF OUR PURPOSE TO HOLD THE GREAT O-G SALE ANNOUNCED BELOW, SAID,—"THIS IS AN EXAMPLE OF PURE GOOD-WILL INVESTMENT—YOU CAN'T CALL IT 'SHOE MERCHANDISING' IN THE PRESENT STATE OF THE LEATHER MARKET. I HOPE YOUR PUBLIC APPRECIATES THAT YOU ARE GIVING THEM WHAT MOST STORES WOULD POCKET AS 'LEGITIMATE EXTRA PROFITS.'" HE NEEDN'T DOUBT. WE DON'T.

of high taste, style-knowledge and ability to appraise material values and superior workmanship, fit and finish.

Before we became one of the largest fine shoe retailing houses in the U. S. we have had sales before—and so have other shoe merchants. But never before have conditions been as they are now. Never before have other shoe-retailers been so perplexed—never before has "O-G" been so sure of itself.

We have been in business 14 years, but never before have we been able to offer our loyal trade price-reductions so much below the manufacturing price being paid at this date by most shoe dealers—and even below what we could buy or make them for today. Never before was the "dividend value" to our clientele so gratifying or so apparent to everybody. Never before did we have to choose between "legitimate artificial profits" and a "good-will investment" in quite the same degree.

Never before have we been able to SELL YOU AT RETAIL the highest class footwear—for men and women—at prices that nobody in the U. S. (either seller or maker) could reproduce it for today—no matter what their resources.

We "bought when the buying was good"—on faith—away ahead. We enforced every contract we had made. We pass the dividends to you, our customers and friends. Our foresight and resources are now your profit, and without our losing materially, we emphasize in a way without a parallel our disposition toward those who trust "O - G" not only for National Fashion Leadership but also Quality Leadership and Price Fairness — ("and then some").

January Clearance Sale

In this great sale we will close out many of the 1916 designs at cost and less. Hundreds of these pieces are as good in every respect as the new productions, and when placed in your rooms no one can tell whether they are of this or last year's design, and it would be but a small matter, anyway, as a good, well made piece of furniture is always attractive. None of the articles can be returned or exchanged.

ALLIES PRESENT FINAL DEMANDS ON GREEK NATION

Call for Guarantees and Reparation—King Joins Wilson in Step for Peace.

PARIS, Dec. 31.—A Havas dispatch from Piraeus, dated Dec. 31, says:

"The ministers of France, Great Britain, and Russia yesterday signed a note for presentation to the Greek government, demanding the following guarantees and reparations:

"Guarantees: First—All Greek forces outside of Peloponnesus to be reduced to a number strictly necessary to the preservation of order and police duty; all corresponding arms and ammunition to be transported to Peloponnesus, including all cannon and machine guns; this situation to last as long as the allies judge necessary. Second—Prohibition of all meetings of reservists in Greece north of the isthmus of Corinth and no civilian to carry arms. Third—Reëstablishment of the allies' control.

List of Reparations.

"Reparations: First—All persons detained for high treason or for other political reasons to be released forthwith. Second—Dismissal of the commandant of the First Army corps, unless the government shows that this measure should be applied to some other general. Third—The Greek government to make apologies to the allies' ministers and flags at some public spot in Athens.

"The note concludes with the statement that the allies reserve liberty of action in case the attitude of the Greek government is unsatisfactory."

[The foregoing demands for guarantees and reparation are for the security of the allied troops in Greece and an echo of the recent clash between French troops and Greek royalists at Athens. Acceptance of the demands means at least the partial lifting of the allied blockade that is threatening the food situation in Greece.]

Constantine Joins Wilson.

ATHENS,, Dec. 30, via London, Dec. 31.—King Constantine summoned Garrett Droppers, the American minister, to the palace this morning and communicated to him the text of his reply to President Wilson's peace note. In the reply the king associates himself with the president in willingness to do all in his power to promote peace.

The note recites the sufferings of Greece at the hands of the belligerents on both sides while the nation has been endeavoring to maintain neutrality.

The Greek government also will make a formal reply, which will associate Greece with the proposals of President Wilson.

KAISER TO ARMY

Praises Bravery of Troops and Assures Them of the Aid of Providence in Future Tasks.

BERLIN, via London, Dec. 31.—Emperor William has issued the following order, addressed to the army and navy:

"Again a year of war lies behind us, with hard fighting and sacrifices, rich in successes and victories. The hopes which our enemies put in 1916 have been foiled. All their assaults, east and west, have collapsed, owing to your bravery and devotion.

"Our recent triumphal march through Roumania has, by divine Providence, again added imperishable laurels to your banners. The greatest naval battle this year was our victory in the Skagerrak, and the gallant deeds of our submarines have secured for my navy glory and admiration forever.

"You are victorious in all theaters of war, on land and sea. A grateful fatherland looks to you with unshakable confidence and proud reliance. The incomparable warlike spirit alive in your ranks, your tenacity, your never slackening will to vanquish your love of the fatherland, are to me a guarantee that in the new year also victory will remain with our banners. God also in the future will be with us."

1,500 NOBLES AT CORONATION OF HUNGARY'S KING

Most Brilliant Spectacle of Nation's Wealth in History of the Country.

BUDAPEST, Dec. 30, via London, Dec. 31.—An assemblage of 1,500 Hungarian nobles witnessed the coronation of King Charles and Queen Zita. It was the most brilliant in the history of the country. Not even the crowning of Francis Joseph presented such a spectacle of the kingdom's wealth.

The coronation was entirely a Hungarian event. No foreign princes were present except King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, who attended in the capacity of a Magyar magnate, which he is by birth. Frederick C. Penfield, the American ambassador, was one of the few neutral diplomats who were present.

Crown Prince Attends.

The 4 year old crown prince was the first of the royal family to reach the church. The king and queen appeared at 9 o'clock and the crown was placed on the king's head by Premier Tisza at the stroke of ten. The service obliged the king to kneel long, and frequently he moved uneasily while Cardinal Csernoch, primate of Hungary, was reading prayers.

After the church ceremony the king repeated the oath of office before a great crowd from the base of Trinity fountain, before the church. There was cheering for fifteen minutes.

Later in the afternoon parliament met in joint session and took official cognizance of the accomplishment of the coronation.

Budapest to Know Him.

The pressure of state affairs obliged King Charles to return to Vienna this evening. He intends, however, to spend six months of each year in the Hungarian capital. The fact that Emperor Francis Joseph spent little time in Budapest led to a movement to have a period of residence in this city prescribed in the inaugural diploma, but as soon as the king heard of this he announced his intention of dividing his time between the Austrian and Hungarian capitals.

PARIS ASSURES ALLIES SUPPORT

PARIS, Dec. 31.—The municipal council "at the dawn of 1917, which we are convinced will fulfill all our hopes," adopted resolutions addressed to the peoples in the capitals of the entente allies "fighting with us for the liberty of the world," assuming them of the "unalterable fraternity and unbreakable resolution to struggle with them to the end for a decisive victory and the necessary reparation."

The New Way—the Better Way in Clothes Buying

WHEN a man is rich enough to afford life's best, he has his clothes made to order—as a plain matter of course. There are no exceptions to this rule.

Can you imagine J. Ogden Armour doing otherwise? Or Marshall Field III? Or Julius Rosenwald? Or James B. Forgan?

The costume of success and eminence is always made to order.

If you have denied yourself the greater luxury, precision and correctness of made-to-order clothes, it is because you have felt that you could not afford them.

But this "high cost" barrier need no longer give you pause. From now on, this barrier does not exist. From now on, any Chicago man, with as much as $25 to spend for a suit or an overcoat, can secure the utmost in a custom-built, made-to-order suit or overcoat.

A great Chicago wholesale tailoring house—with an output of half a million suits and overcoats a year—is offering a retail tailoring service direct to its home town folks.

To the economies of its huge production, it has added the money-saving advantages of no store expense; no ground floor frontal cost; no elaborate retail overhead. All Chicago retail orders are taken at our wholesale plant—where the upkeep is maintained by our nation-wide wholesale business.

To the craftsmanship of the custom tailor we have added the efficiency and system of a vast, clock-like business organization.

This is the new way—the efficient way—the way of today and tomorrow in ordering made-to-measure clothes. And this will be your way, too—if you will take a five-minute walk into the wholesale district and see for yourself the amazing values we are offering.

PEARLS

APART from the pleasure of wearing pearls they are a safe and profitable investment, increasing in value (when well bought) approximately 10% per annum.

In our estimation this is a most opportune time to buy. And in order to protect our customers against any immediate advance in foreign exchange (now about 15% in favor of the U. S.), which will mean a corresponding advance in pearl prices, we have had our Bankers contract for for our use early in 1917, as peace negotiations will materially affect the price of francs.

Incidentally we invite inspection of some remarkable pearl necklaces we have assembled (each one carefully graduated and selected) and which range in price from $1,000 to $75,000.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & CO

IT is pleasant to-day to contemplate the favor with which, we anticipate, the results of our January Sales planning will be met to-morrow.

We know how splendidly in the past our patrons have met our efforts to make each January a month of opportunity—and knowing this we have reason to anticipate much in this regard for these January Sales of 1917.

For never have we had greater cause to congratulate ourselves upon the successful outcome of our plans—never have our resources brought greater results—never has this store been so abundantly provided with the New Year's new merchandise—never in contrast to the conditions created by world circumstance, have advantages transpired so bountifully for the patrons of Carson Pirie Scott and Company.

The January Sales of 1917--

Of French, Philippine and American Lingerie, of Silk Undergarments, of Brides' Trousseaux, of Blouses, of Infants' Wear, of House Dresses, of Corsets, of Boys' Washable Suits, of new white and colored Cotton Dress Fabrics, of Laces and Embroideries, of Household Linens, Sheets and Pillow Cases and of Stamped Linens, will begin to-morrow.

Details concerning these great occasions are printed elsewhere in this newspaper to-day.

Another interesting page regarding this store's January Sales is printed elsewhere in this paper.

Regular hours of business from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. Store closed to-day.

Boys' New Washable Suits

These reveal the new styles for little boys for 1917.

In all their crisp, bright newness they should attract many mothers to this splendid Store for Boys.

A Special Assortment Offering New Styles

in belted middies buttoned to the neck, or with sailor collars, some with silk ties and others with ties of cord, of Devonshire cloths, plain and striped, and in attractive color combinations.

—These are priced at $2.95.

And a most remarkable assortment brought through a fortunate purchase results in our offering

1,800 Boys' Washable Suits, Priced at $1.95

Sample lines—new, fresh, spotless. Suits of linenes, repps, madrases, chambrays, striped cotton gabardines and novelty fabrics which will wash satisfactorily—in plain colors, novelty effects and attractive color combinations—in all sizes from 2½ to 8 years, and all remarkably priced at $1.95.

The New in Modes for 1917

Forecasting the Dominant Style Themes in Apparel for Women, Misses and Girls

ARRANGED in anticipation of the winter traveler's needs, this display evolves into an authoritative and advance exhibit of the new fashions—and becomes of interest to every woman.

For never, perhaps, has so early a showing been so complete to the smallest detail of the newly created. Introduced are

The New Fabrics, New Color Tones
The Slim and Graceful Silhouette of the New Season

Fashions 1917 are of all periods past harmonized, and in their adaptation make these modes entirely new as they are presented in these sections.

Women's Suits—

With Marked Simplicity of Line

With niceties of detail one is accustomed to associate with "custom-made"—delightfully wearable modes for all types of women.

Sports Suits of Khaki Kool and Yo San, $75. White gabardine suits, suits of wool jersey in new colors, "betrave" (beet red), Egyptian blue, gold tones, apple greens and dull rich greens vary in price with the mode from $27.50 to $67.50.

Travel and Street Suits—adopting mannish fabrics and in many a smart instance the "pinch-back" line of man's coat. In wool jersey, in tiny checkered fabrics of unusual color combination, in gabardine-velour, $27.50 to $65.

Many are lined to serve for immediate wear here.

Women's Frocks—

For Daytime and Evening Occasions

The fascination of the East is in the evening modes—the debonair, frank spirit of the West in sports wear apparel.

Sports frocks in the new silks, Khaki Kool, Yo San, in silk jersey, in odd combinations of fabrics, $40 to $75.

Afternoon frocks of Georgette crepe and crepe de Chine, all white or in vivid color tones, Roman red, jade, in the becoming blue shades, $47.50 to $62.50.

Evening gowns, unique in line, combining the Empire and Oriental, of soft silks and metal laces.

Women's Coats—

Feature Many Unusual Departures

For example, sports coats of Khaki Kool, unlike those of yesteryear, are long and full. $75.

Satin coats to accompany afternoon frocks are in high colors and in two tones. $85.

White broadcloth claims an unusual mode in coats, $97.50. Peau de peche returns in a smart coat. $40.

Women's Skirts—

Are Held in Highest Favor

New fabrics, new lines, uncommon details one notes in pockets and belts and in sashes.

Glace serge fashions a graceful dress skirt at $35.

Satin Georgette has a texture just created it would seem for a mode at $35.

Then there are soft white satin skirts, skirts of rajah, of wool jersey, Yo San, silk jersey, $12.75 to $35.

Misses' Suits—

New Types Expressive of Youth

Skirts pleated, paneled, plain, cleverly repeating the detail of coat. Coats simulating the Empire by high belts.

For sports wear, in wool jersey, one can choose smart suits for as little as $25 and upward to $50.

Heather mixtures at $25. Mannish styles, $35.

The buttonless coat-suit of Khaki Kool at $50.

New checks, new stripings, new plaids, to $75.

Misses' Frocks—

With New Decorative Motifs

Braiding and beading are dominant. For afternoon wear are the most fascinating adaptations of the moyen age lines. And many of the most charming of the modes are developed in soft Georgette crepes, crisp striped silks for afternoon. $35 to $62.50.

Sports frocks to apparel correctly any young girl's hobby. $40 to $57.50.

Little Girls' Apparel—

Newly Created, Distinctive Modes

This section is a revelation in the beautiful frocks it presents. Simple of line, with touches of hand-work upon fine fabrics—such frocks mothers have long sought.

Each mode is designed for a definite age and type. The wide varieties include—

Gingham frocks in dainty styles, $1.75, $1.95 to $6.75.

Finer frocks of linens, with touches of hand-work, are priced $8.75 to $16.75.

White frocks, lacy, exquisite, $2.95, $3.95 to $10.75.

Party frocks of chiffons, Georgette crepes, $15 to $35.

And throughout these new assortments there is everywhere evident that sure, unerring discrimination in assembling for which these sections have become renowned—insuring not only the new, but the best of the new.

An Occasion of First Importance to Thousands of Chicago Women Is This

Dress Goods Remnants

And now one may say that the end is but another beginning, for the most successful dress goods business we have ever done in any season results in this Twice-Yearly Dress Goods Remnant Sale—the beginning of a period of selling which, we believe, will prove the greatest in our dress goods history.

The largest accumulations of remnants we have ever had left for a sale of this kind, remnants of desirable dress goods of the present season, are marked at pricings so remarkably low that the reductions will be little realized until the qualities themselves are noted in these two great lots—

Grouped at 75c and 95c. Yard

And the weaves and colors that have been shown unmistakable preference this season are well represented in:

Broadcloths
Velours
Gabardines
Taffetas
Panamas
Cashmeres
Storm serges
French serges
Whip-cords
Diagonals
Brilliantines
Sicilians
Cheviots
Satin cloths
Coatings
Eoliennes
Shadow checked taffetas
Fancy checked velours.
Herringbone stripes
Homespuns
Shadow checks
Granite cloths
Shadow striped taffetas
Pencil striped suitings
Wool and silk voiles
Henriettas
Novelty plaids
Bedford cords
Coverts
Poplins

So with widths varying from 42 to 54 inches and lengths ranging from 2 to 6 yards, this Twice-Yearly Sale of Remnants provides dress fabrics suitable for every practical purpose at pricings which we are quite sure will be remembered for a long time to come.

Please note that after purchase none of these remnants will be accepted for credit, refund or exchange.

Extensive assortments of dress goods remnants at 50c a yard will be found in the basement.

The January Sale of Women's Silk Hosiery

Two Very Large Assortments at 75c and $1.15 Pair

Thousands of pairs of silk hosiery are included. Many kinds of black and colored silk stockings, many plain colors, many novelty effects—and so extremely below the usual pricings are these assortments marked that one will do well to anticipate silk hosiery needs for some time to come.

Assortment No. 1—

Silk Hosiery at 75c Pair

Included are many thousands of pairs of women's full regular made silk hosiery, some all silk, some with cotton tops, heels, soles and toes, some black, some white, others in a splendid assortment of colors—and many novelty effects as well.

Assortment No. 2—

Silk Hosiery at $1.15 Pair

A most unusual variety of women's fine silk hosiery in scores of beautiful novelty effects and a wide selection of colors and black and white. At this pricing this assortment will probably remain without duplication for some time.

January Clearance Sale of Women's, Misses,' Girls' Apparel

PRICE alone, even in a clearance sale, means nothing. Its significance lies wholly in what is offered for price. So, although in each instance the reductions are most radical, it is the fresh, seasonable garments included, the quality in their fabrics and tailoring, their distinctiveness of style that mark this notable among clearance sales.

Women's Frocks Reduced—

In this grouping one finds smart serge frocks, satin frocks, frocks of Georgette crepe, taffetas, with all the season's distinctive details, to

Children's Furs Reduced—

This assortment includes both the white furs and the dark colored furs in all the styles wanted for children, within a price range of $1.50 to $11.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Owing to the extreme reductions and the fact that in many instances there are but one or two of a kind, none of these garments will be sent on approval nor will they be accepted after purchase for credit, refund or exchange.

LAND GRAB SEEN IN $45,000,000 RIVER FLOOD BILL

Facts Uncovered in House and Senate Bare Scheme—Doomed to Defeat?

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Facts in the possession of a number of senators and representatives indicate that the Mississippi river flood bill, containing an appropriation of more than $45,000,000, is the result of a gigantic land scheme.

It is declared to be the purpose of those behind the bill to reclaim 16,000,000 acres of swamp land at government expense and thus enrich themselves to the extent of many millions of dollars. It is declared that the Mississippi River Levee association at Memphis is behind the scheme and that owners of land along the Mississippi compose this association.

Bill Doomed to Defeat?

These facts have been so startling as to cause a hurried investigation of the subject to be made by a number of senators, with the result that the flood bill, which was booked for early passage in the senate, is now understood to be doomed to defeat.

This bill, which was called forth at the time of last year's disastrous floods, contains only two items. One is for the control of the Mississippi river and the other is for the control of the Sacramento river in California.

Many other rivers in the United States which periodically flood thousands of acres of farm land and cause untold damage are not mentioned in the bill. Even the control of the Mississippi river is to be limited under the bill to the part of the river south of the Ohio.

Only Drop in Bucket.

The $45,000,000 which the Mississippi would get under the bill would be just a starter.

Government engineers have estimated that any proper flood prevention along the river would cost upward of $200,000,000. Thus a further appropriation of at least $155,000,000 would have to be made later.

Under the provisions of the bill the owners of the land benefited would pay only about $10,000,000 of this sum.

Leather Men Will Hold Exhibition at Coliseum

Chicago as a center of the shoe and leather industry has received new recognition through the selection of it for holding the national exhibition of shoes, leather, and findings in September. The show will take place in the Coliseum.

The heavy rise in the cost of shoes and leather will make the exhibition and trade conferences an event of unusual importance. Latest model machines used in making shoes will be in full operation, and a host of novelties in leather will be placed on view for the first time.

A number of trade meetings are scheduled for "shoe and leather week" in Chicago, and foreign nations will be represented by manufacturers and agents. How to increase as well as conserve America's supply of hides will be discussed by leaders in the industry.

SUPERIORITY OF AIRMEN DECIDES MODERN BATTLE

Every Step in Fighting Depends on Ability of Flyers to Guide Operations.

BY CAPT. HENRY J. REILLY.

PARIS, Dec. 16.—On a recent visit to the French Somme front one of the most interesting days was that on which we were shown the methods used in modern aeroplane reconnaissance and artillery fire control.

The day on which each general got on a hill with his spyglass and looked over his opponents' forces long ago gave away to the one in which the great difficulty of obtaining any reasonably correct information gave rise to the expression "the fog of war."

With the increased fire power of modern small arms, such as rifles and machine guns and with the increased range, rapidity of fire and violence of effect of artillery and its projectiles, the defense has been so enormously strengthened that an attack can make no headway until the defensive positions and armament have been largely destroyed.

Cannon Range of Miles.

Due to the great range of modern weapons, artillery is no longer limited to picking positions in a shallow zone immediately back of its infantry.

This makes the battlefields include so much territory that it is impossible even with modern rapidity of fire to cover all of it with bursting projectiles. Also to furnish some protection to the infantry the modern communicating trenches, instead of being a few hundred yards long, as was formerly the case, now frequently extend for miles.

No position is considered properly held unless several lines are entrenched. Each one of these lines invariably consists of two or more lines of trenches. Unless all the enemy batteries are destroyed or at least put out of action and held out until after the assault; unless all the infantry positions and machine gun emplacements are destroyed, the attacking infantry will find itself met with a fire which it frequently cannot overcome.

This war has demonstrated more than once the absolute necessity for the most perfect artillery preparation if the infantry attack is to succeed. There can be no such preparation unless all the targets are accurately located and the exact firing data necessary to hit them previously determined.

This necessitates a long continued thorough reconnaissance, which can only be made by highly trained observers in aeroplanes. However, such observation necessitates flying over the enemy's lines not once on one day but many times for many days.

This can only be done when the enemy's aeroplanes can be destroyed, chased away, or prevented from flying by the use of a superior number of fighting machines. Once this mastery of the air is obtained, the reconnaissance is diligently pursued, primarily by taking large numbers of photographs of the enemy's position.

Tell of Ranging Fire.

The various batteries are then assigned their targets and commence their ranging fire. This fire is a slow one the primary purpose of which is to find the exact firing data which will enable each of the batteries to hit the target or targets assigned. To determine this the aeroplanes with trained observers fly above the targets and signal back to batteries whether they are over or short, etc. until the exact data is obtained in each case.

After the period of ranging comes that of the artillery preparation in which the endeavor is made to smash all the enemy positions and batteries. The aeroplanes during this period also must observe and report the effect of the fire.

Finally comes the period of the infantry assault. The light guns establish a curtain of fire which moves forward over the enemy's positions. Following closely behind this and under its protection is the assaulting infantry, accompanied by artillery officers who signal to observers in aeroplanes overhead the necessary information to prevent the artillery shooting up their own infantry. This information the aeroplanes send back to the batteries.

Report Result of Attack.

Other aeroplanes observe the progress of the attack and from time to time report to the general in command at his battle post. In other words, the preparation and carrying out of a modern attack are absolutely dependent upon a proper aviation service. In the United States we have no fast armed machines capable of bringing down such battle machines as every European nation now possesses.

We have no officers properly trained in photographic reconnaissance, in the observation of artillery fire, and in the keeping of proper communication between assaulting infantry and the artillery and between it and the general in command.

(Another letter from Capt. Reilly will be printed in "The Tribune" tomorrow.)

DUAL SUICIDE BY AGED PAIR

Martin Sydenglause and his wife of 4805 South Bishop street, both 60 years old, were found dead from gas asphyxiation yesterday by a neighbor. From notes left by the aged couple it was made known that they took their own lives. The old man was found fully dressed on a couch and his wife, also dressed, was lying on a couch. The discovery was made by Walter Walcer, 4803 South Bishop street, who detected gas fumes.

Locked Steering Gear Leads to Boys' Arrests

A locked steering gear led to the arrests of Edward Rossler, 2920 Herndon avenue, and Frank Conroy, 1116 Oakdale avenue, yesterday. The automobile was owned by W. J. Wols, 5413 Winthrop avenue, and was in front of 137 West North avenue.

Aged Man Dead in Cell After Arrest in Doorway

Michael Burke, 60 years old, died yesterday in the South Clark street emergency hospital after he had been arrested in a doorway at 435 South Clark street.

NO INCOME TAX ON STOCK LOSS?

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 31.—William H. Crocker, multimillionaire banker of this city, has sued Internal Revenue Collector J. J. Scott for a refund of $11,340 income tax, it became known here today. The suit was filed in the United States District court here and was placed on secret file by special order from Washington, which, it is said, granted to Crocker the privilege of avoiding a public recording of the documents in the case.

Crocker alleges the $11,340 represents losses on bonds and stocks sustained by him, which losses should have been considered in the fixing of the amount of his taxable income.

It is said that if Crocker wins his suit it will mean that the government will have to refund millions of dollars to income tax payers throughout the country.

36 Negroes Are Caught Coaxing the Seven Dice

A pair of dice upon which lurked a coy and elusive seven, a few handfuls of change, and thirty-six Negroes were scooped up by the police yesterday at 3010 South State street. Samuel Young was booked as keeper.

URGES UNION OF METHODISTS

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 31.—A plea for the reunion of Methodists of the south with those of the north was made by Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice president of the United States, in an address here today. Mr. Fairbanks is one of the fifty commissioners of the two churches in the city to work out a plan of union. All the others spoke in churches, and many of them expressed hope that the negotiations would result in a real reunion of forces.

Weil Expects Big Crowd at Afternoon Concert

William Weil, conductor of the Chicago band, predicts a record crowd for the concert this afternoon between 3 and 5 o'clock at the Art institute. Among the numbers announced on the program are "Spirit Invincible," "Raymond," "Meditation from 'Thais,'" quartet from "Rigoletto," "Golden Legend," excerpts from "The Blue Paradise," march from "Tannhäuser," and "America."

Fatally Stricken in Home.

John Duffy, a teamster, 900 South Racine avenue, died at his home yesterday of heart disease.

SEE IT!

IN YOUR HOME OR OFFICE

—how it works.
—what it does.
—why you need it.

Phone Harrison 915, or drop a postal to 18 East Jackson Boulevard, and we will have a representative call at your home or office and demonstrate the Berry Window Ventilator.

This offer is made not only to residents of Chicago, but to those who live in the suburbs and to people in nearby cities such as Joliet, Aurora, Elgin and Waukegan. This will involve no obligation on your part.

This demonstration will prove to you that the Berry Ventilator admits fresh air, but prevents drafts and excludes dirt, rain, snow and burglars.

A demonstration will show you why 90 per cent of the Chicago firms who made trial purchases of Berry Ventilators have given us reorders.

Promotes Health

You know that you need Fresh Air constantly, night as well as day, winter as well as summer, if you are to escape tuberculosis, pneumonia and other common diseases. "Berry Ventilator" means "Fresh Air."

Fights Disease

You know that nothing is so necessary in a sick room as Fresh Air. Yet nothing is so hard to secure in a sick room because of the danger from drafts. The Berry Ventilator solves this problem.

There are more deaths in winter than in summer because people lack Fresh Air. The Berry Ventilator is saving lives every day. It may save your life. Call and see it or arrange for a demonstration in your home or office at once.

How to Take Measurements

To determine size of ventilator needed, close your window and measure (with rule, not tape measure) from window stop to window stop on inside of sill close up to window. The "window stop" is the perpendicular strip that holds the window in place. Any size in this table will fit window openings any part of three inches wider than the length of the ventilator.

Size	Price	Size	Price	Size	Price
17 in.	$1.36	35 in.	$2.80	53 in.	$4.24
20 in.	1.60	38 in.	3.04	56 in.	4.48
23 in.	1.84	41 in.	3.28	59 in.	4.72
26 in.	2.08	44 in.	3.52	62 in.	4.95
29 in.	2.32	47 in.	3.76	65 in.	5.20
32 in.	2.56	50 in.	4.00	68 in.	5.44
				71 in.	5.68

EACH SIZE ADJUSTABLE TO THE NEXT SIZE

In ordering by mail add 25 cents for each ventilator for delivery outside of Cook County.

SURVEY SHOWS GRAVE DEFECTS IN CHILDREN

Health Officials Alarmed Over Disclosures of Investigation in Schools.

Health department officials are alarmed over disclosures made through a survey of eye, ear, nose, and throat defects of school children in Chicago. As a result arrangements have been made with several hospitals to give the children treatment on certain days at reduced prices.

"The conditions we have discovered are amazing and the parents are in a measure to blame, for they do not grasp the importance and danger of defects of this kind," said Dr. Martin M. Ritter, director of the survey. "In many cases the child's life is at stake, but if we can get the coöperation of parents we can save the future of these children."

For the purposes of the survey different schools were classed according to neighborhoods. The defects were classified in three groups—"deviations from normal without symptoms," "deviations from normal with symptoms," and "exaggerated cases."

Examine 86,000 Children.

A total of 86,000 boys and girls were examined among Chicago's 450,000 school children. The following is a summary of the statistics:

Defect.	No. of children.
Defective vision only	11,973
Diseases of the eyes, not including defective vision	2,191
Defective hearing only	1,263
Ear discharges	663
Enlarged tonsils	29,842
Defective nasal breathing	6,214
Adenoids	14,262
Tonsils and Adenoids combined	14,044

Many Have Defective Eyes.

The health department physicians found an unusually large number of "exaggerated cases." There were 1,663 in this class who had defective vision and 1,559 who had enlarged tonsils. In the less congested sections of the city conditions were found to be noticeably better than in other localities.

The survey was supervised by a committee appointed by Health Commissioner Robertson, consisting of Dr. P. J. H. Farrell, Dr. M. Z. Albro, Dr. U. J. Grim, Dr. William L. Noble, Dr. Robert Sonnenschien, Dr. A. Augustus O'Neill, and Dr. Martin M. Ritter.

PHONE ILLUSION THOUGHT LURE TO M. SIDDALL

Michael F. Siddall thought he heard a voice from the grave. He thought his wife, dead for more than three years, was talking to him.

This is the explanation of the man's mysterious disappearance in Milwaukee a month ago, given by his sister, Frances M. Siddall of 1959 East Seventy-second place. She believes as a result of a phone call shortly before his disappearance he is now wandering about, his mind unbalanced.

"Is that you, Mike?" said the voice over the phone. Siddall's manner became greatly agitated. Then the voice revealed its identity. It was the sister of the dead wife, Mrs. Glenn M. Johnson of San Francisco, in which city Siddall met and courted and was married to his wife.

Arrangements were made for a meeting down town. When Siddall saw Mrs. Johnson he became still more agitated. There was really a marked resemblance, Miss Siddall says, to the dead wife. The next day Siddall left on a business trip to Milwaukee. He never returned.

Miss Siddall believes he is wandering about either in Chicago or somewhere in California, his native state. Police are searching for him here and on the coast.

HOTELS IN 1916 GET $75,000,000

When Father Time sang his swan song at midnight last night he closed his big book on a business record made by the hotels, restaurants, and cafés of Chicago which amounted to more than $75,000,000, and, could the "lid" have remained off for New Year's eve, the amount would have been several million dollars larger.

The year has been the greatest ever experienced in the hoteldom of Chicago, the volume of trade showing an increase over 1915 of from 25 to 40 per cent. The natural facilities for the entertainment of large gatherings which Chicago possesses was increased by the two great political and suffrage conventions, but, outside of these, statistics show the general trade to have been the greatest ever experienced in Chicago, and possibly a record for the entire United States—all things considered.

The largest single check for any one event, it is said, was paid to Ernest J. Stevens, manager of the Hotel La Salle, by George W. Perkins for three floors of the hotel for the use of delegates to the bull moose convention, and was for more than $40,000.

First Rest in 40 Years for This Bank Employe

[illegible] Kastrup of Oak Park today began his first real rest in forty years. He retires from his desk in the First National bank on a pension after forty years of steady work. He has not been absent from his duty a day in that time. On Saturday James B. Forgan, chairman of the board, followed by a parade of the bank's employés, approached Mr. Kastrup's desk in the special deposits division. Mr. Forgan presented the old employé with a gold watch and chain to commemorate his long service.

MR. JOLSON GIVES A PARTY AT THE GARRICK

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

MR. JOLSON'S aid in making the arid festival less melancholy was important. He gave two animated performances of "Robinson Crusoe Jr." at the Garrick, and so gay was he in the process that his large audiences seemed to regard with less regret the gloomy prospect of eating their New Year's bread without sack. To describe the attitude of the first, or $5 gathering, requires a proficiency in enthusiasm which this recorder does not possess; it is an occasion demanding the rapturous stylus of a critic of the opera or a critic of the movies. I have only to say that it was a glad convocation of frustrated celebrants. If it was the aim of our governors to make the night lugubrious they should have put the lid on Jolson as well as on the flowing bowl.

A magnetic minstrel is Mr. Jolson, a wild dynamo of song, dance, and joke. I suspect that no other practitioner of his humble art so absolutely dominates his hearers. He is a hospitable troubadour, becoming a member of his audience in his eagerness to make the party a good one. Sometimes, I fear, he is a bit too eager; his anxiety to please now and then leads him into the questionable field of broad inuendo whose only virtue is that it is not slinking. I wish he would not do that. The sheer informality of his method is that of the true clown. Many times you feel that he is making it up as he goes along. His little speech last evening at the first performance was one of the most delightfully sincere utterances I ever heard from a stage. His songs, all of them the melodious drivel common to extravaganza, are sung conamore in the best of the extravaganza voices. He is, in a manner of speaking, the Muratore of the hanky-pank. As evidence of the value of his larynx, artistic and otherwise, I am informed on trustworthy authority that his income from the music machines is $50,000 a year.

All of which suggests that Mr. Jolson is the boss of "Robinson Crusoe Jr." Without him there would be no danger of one's laughing oneself to death at the wit and humor of the composition. But as a voluptuous spectacle it has its place as an engine of human happiness. Its size is so prodigious that it bulges from every outlet of the tiny Garrick stage. Numerous young girls are in it, dressed in the barbaric regalia of Broadway spectacles, with hues so violent that any one of them could be arrested for optical assault and battery. The facial features and the deportment of this chorus have my unimportant and unequivocal commendation. It is, I am told by qualified experts, the handsomest ensemble that ever decorated a Shubert cantata. Youthful, though hippy, it has its plump moments. One of the prettiest pictures in entertainments of the kind is that at the end of the first act, where the coryphees in pretty clothes climb into the rigging of the pirate ship, and sing the dubious notes of whoever it is that wrote the music.

I was not able to gather from one sitting what "Robinson Crusoe Jr." was all about, but there was a dream in it, dreamed by a New York millionaire, who had aspirations to be Robinson Crusoe. The episodes of his vision were eccentric and haphazard, but with Mr. Jolson appearing in the "front" scenes it was not too long to wait until the next picture was set. There is one of those nice, unknown casts in "Robinson Crusoe Jr." Miss Mabel Withee, of whom none of you have ever heard before, is the prima donna, and she is pretty, modest, young, and perfect in that awful function. The actor of Robinson Crusoe, whose name I have not with me at this moment, is, if I may be permitted to say so, the best actor of extravaganza I have ever seen, so well does he combine the serious elements of extravaganza with a sense of humor.

MISS GARDEN AND OTHER WEEK-END SINGERS

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

MARY GARDEN'S return last night to the Opera exercised a vitalizing effect upon a gathering so small in its main-floor and box-tiers aspect that dismay would, in normal circumstances, have been the right emotion: a sheer guess is that she never before faced so sparse an audience in Chicago. I should say that the explanation lies in neither the seven dollars nor the lidded holiday, but in Sunday night: the Opera records run against experiments made, at various cash-scales, to provoke attendance on Sunday performances starting after dinner.

The management, doubtless, figured that New-Year-Eve would triumph over experience; but opera is not, despite Mr. Hammond, a matter for boobs—a word with the sanction of the judgment of THE TRIBUNE editorial-writers in its favor, and meaning, perhaps, Californians, pacifists, and persons who urge themselves into festal fervors. Turning to that department of THE TRIBUNE edited by Mr. Woodruff, I cull from Mr. Lardner, a magazinist, another word which seems apposite—boner, a noun: meaning, I gather, something that may be pulled. So, daring further philological adventure in an uncalled-for eagerness to explain last night's forsaken fauteuils, I risk the opinion that the management, animated by the best of intentions, pulled a boner in scheduling Miss Garden's return.

Merchants eager to sell things encroach too far today to permit more than an outline catalogue of the night's proceedings: thus, that "Thais" was the receptacle; that Miss Garden was, as in the past, the best of all possible reasons for reventilating this smooth, shrewd, elegant bit of Massenet; that her principal associates were again the Messrs. Dalmores and Dufranne; that Mr. Campanini, who conducts this opera well, did so; that the Cogitation was encored; also, that it was perfectly played in its solo aspect by Mr. Henrotte, now the Opera concertmeister; that the audience reacted from her first entrance to the emulsion of art, personality, and showmanship which is Mary Garden.

Yesterday afternoon's "Tristan and Isolde" was, all-in-all, the best of the Wagner performances yet given: the best, too, I suspect, Chicago has had in at least as many seasons as are gone since De Reszke and Nordica were vis-a-vis in the name-parts. Credit belongs first to Pollak, who found dirigibility in the brasses for the first time this season, and then to Matzenauer, who effected a superb Isolde. She sang brilliantly throughout, and with singular beauty and feeling in both the great duet of the second act and the death-song. The afternoon was a success for her in all ways as great and deserved as the previous Sunday's had been for Farrar as Elizabeth.

Madame Claussen made her reappearance to repeat the fine Brangäne she gave last season to Fremstad's Isolde: she is the best since Marie Brema sang the part in the United States. Maclennan, Whitehill, and Goddard were the Tristan, Kurwenal, and Marke of last season: each was measurably better yesterday.

An item in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE made record of Edvina's non-appearance for the scheduled "Louise" of Saturday afternoon, and the substitution of Galli-Curci in "La Traviata." The box-office demonstration of chagrin took the form of five refunds. The performance was the occasion of another of Galli-Curci's matchless exhibitions as singer and actress: she is the first singer of Violetta in at least a generation who has not made the first act of Verdi's opera its last act, as well.

Crimi was the tenor of the hurriedly-assembled cast: he was not as good as when he sang Alfredo in the first "Traviata."

Saturday night's half-price "Bohême" was better than that at full price in the preceding week as a Farrar extra: it had youth and enthusiasm in the singers and the singing of Mimi and Rodolfo, and firmer ensemble. Miss Sharlow's was a good Mimi in most facets: not persuasive as the sempstress of either Murger or Puccini's librettist, but good to look at, and to hear. Mr. Errolle was just as good Saturday night as he was bad the preceding Saturday night in "Tosca": Rodolfo is for his voice and manner. A season of good stage-direction would, maybe, fit this young man for the run of parts in which Nadal is cast. Rimini's Marcel was at least better than in the Farrar "Bohême"; and Miss De Phillippe, despite over-eagerness to get the reward that is in the waltz, did well with Musetta.

"Louise," with Edvina, has been placed in the schedule for Thursday night, for which "Hoffmann" has been billed since the announcement of Carolina White's non-appearance.

Frances Ingram is to get her longed-for chance as Carmen Saturday night of next week: the performance will be in English; and Mrs. Prindiville is to be heard again as Micaela.

Raoul Gunsbourg's short opera of "The Old Eagle" is to be made an item of a gala on the final Friday night of the season. The opera was listed for last season, but not sung. It is not, despite the suggestion in the title, about Napoleon: it is of Balkan locale.

SWANN DENIES FRAUD CHARGE OF DELEHANTY

New York, Dec. 31.—District Attorney Edward Swann issued a formal statement tonight protesting that there is no basis in fact for the charges filed against him with Gov. Whitman by James A. Delehanty, whose term as judge of the Court of General Sessions expired at midnight. The statement was addressed to the judges of general sessions and protested that personal enmity actuated the allegations that he had "practiced fraud" upon the court in failing to prosecute vigorously persons indicted in the terms of previous district attorneys upon charges growing out of the garment workers' labor disputes. Several cases, Judge Delehanty said, were dismissed without being sent to trial.

Fire Attacks Shoe Store.

Fire of unknown cause was discovered in the basement of the building at 836 East Sixty-third street last night. It spread to the first floor, which is occupied by E. Shane & Co., shoe dealers. It was extinguished with small loss.

LONE BURGLAR BINDS WOMAN TO STAIRWAY

Miss Mary Longmore, 618 South Kedzie avenue, returning home at 10 o'clock last night with two friends, found her mother, Mrs. Robert Longmore, bound to the stairway with a handkerchief tied over her face and mouth.

Mrs. Longmore said a burglar entered the house in the absence of her family, coming through the front door, and tied the handkerchief over her mouth before she could call for help. He then bound her to the stairway.

Neighbors talking in front of the house, she said, frightened the intruder away before he could ransack the rooms.

"UNREST" FINE FOR CITY, MAYOR SAYS IN REVIEW

Municipal Turbulence Shows Chicago at Gateway of New Era of Progress.

It was a stormy year for the city administration, but its turbulence was an omen that Chicago is at the gateway of a new era—"an era where all Chicagoans will be working unselfishly for the advancement of our common home."

Such is the sentiment that pervades the annual review of the city's activities issued yesterday by Mayor Thompson, at the conclusion of the second year of his term of office.

"Municipal unrest," the mayor says, is an excellent indication of progress. A city that is satisfied is generally a city settled down to mediocrity and a city stagnant.

"There are crises in municipal life just as in the lives of individuals. Chicago has experienced them, and will experience them, but, fortified in its strength, will emerge stronger, bigger, and better for the trial.

"This year, like each preceding year, sees Chicago farther along the road towards the goal of first place among not the cities of the country but of the world.

"Health and safety are great factors in the progress of a municipality, and Chicago ranks first in these respects among the cities of the country. Chicago is the healthiest city in the country; the death rate is the lowest and there is less crime in Chicago this year than there was last, and the record is steadily growing better."

Refers to Wider Streets.

The mayor cites the Twelfth street and Michigan avenue improvements as evidence that Chicago has "awakened to the fact that it has grown big without trying to be beautiful." He adds that the people have also awakened to the possibilities of the the lake front. He declares that "with the team work that is being manifested obstacles to the development of this great feature of our municipality are fast disappearing."

The introduction concludes with the hope that the report of the traction and subway commission may "offer a solution of the transportation problem and open the door for improvements and advancements that are vitally necessary to our municipal progress."

Here Are Excerpts.

Following are excerpts from the mayor's review of departments of the city government:

Finance. Excessive appropriations for the current year have immeasurably injured the credit of the city. There is only one cure for this deplorable condition. One Jan. 1, 1914, there was a surplus in the corporate purposes fund of $4,547,228. It is estimated we will close the current year with a deficit of $969,188. Or, in other words, in three years we have expended $5,000,000 more than our income. The city's debt statement shows bonds issued to the extent of $33,000,917; bonds authorised but unsold, $14,188,100, leaving an unexercised borrowing power of $4,461,705.

Police. For the new year the general superintendent suggests the addition of at least 1,292 patrolmen to the force and an appropriation of $30,000 with which to purchase motorcycles. During the first ten months of the year there were 16,864 complaints of crime and 85,346 arrests made. There were 236 homicides, of which 82 were premeditated murders. In these cases 182 arrests were made and thirteen were sentenced to Joliet, three to Pontiac and one to the insane asylum. Other cases were dismissed or are pending. The detective bureau recovered $313,437 worth of property and 2,195 out of 3,172 stolen cars were recovered.

Fire. The department responded to 16,487 alarms, 10,177 of which were actual fires. This is an increase of 2,844 alarms and 742 fires over the year 1915, and a decrease in losses as compared with 1915 of $9,645, which is due to the improved conditions in the service. Increased equipment included $120,799 worth of motor apparatus.

Health. During the first eleven months there were 33,219 deaths, a death rate of 14.52 per 1,000, which is 14 per cent less than the annual rate for the last ten years and nearly 2.75 per cent less than the rate for the last five years.

At present Chicago's water shows 99.72 per cent safe. In 1915 it was 97.30. The improvement has been brought about by chlorination, control of lake dumping, and by a sanitary survey and cleanup.

There were 354 deaths from tuberculosis this year. A sanitary survey in the center of the city brought to light 4,000 unreported cases.

Civil Service. Investigation has revealed the following defects in the present system of civil service.

Multiplicity of fictitious and nondescriptive titles.

An inadequate and inequitable system of advancement and promotion.

Lack of proper qualifications and preliminary training of employés and lack of standards with which to compare and control work of employés.

Education. The most striking feature of public school attendance is the remarkable increase in the enrollment in high schools. In October it was 21,482, an increase in two years of more than 25 per cent. The year has shown a decided advance in methods of teaching the practical arts of writing, arithmetic, and the use of good English, while the cultural studies have not been neglected. The total expenditures for the year were $19,500,000, as compared with $16,883,302 in 1915.

Bureaus. The board of local improvements let contracts for paving 200 miles of streets, an increase of 30 per cent over last year. The special assessment bureau reports over $12,000,000 in assessment rolls filed, as against $9,000,000 last year. Proceedings for paving widened Twelfth street are now in court, and we expect to make the improvement next summer.

During the year $1,302,625 was spent under the jurisdiction of the committee on parks, playgrounds, and beaches. The most notable achievement was opening Clarendon beach.

During 1917 the department of gas and electricity plans to place in service 6,232 new lights in the northwest section of the city. Plans will also be pushed for new lights in the South Chicago district.

Bridewell. At the bridewell special attention has been paid to the medical department. No less than 250 operations have been performed. The operation junk clearing house has netted the city $4,000.

The first eleven months of 1916, the records of the building department show, form a period of greatest activity in buildings operations, going back to the year 1882. There was a gain of ninety-four permits and a gain in aggregate cost of buildings amounting to $20,383,000 over last year.

Through collection of warrants, which is practically a new source of revenue, the law department collected $44,245. The department rendered 3,400 legal opinions.

The department of public works reports that the Wilson avenue water tunnel is 73 per cent completed. Its cost is estimated at $4,550,000.

IDYLLIC FEET

Japanese Woman Indulges in Praise Paean to the High Booted Chicago Girl.

THE American, and especially the Chicago girl, has the smallest and prettiest foot in the world, according to Mrs. H. S. K. Yamaguchi, who, with her husband and brother, S. Kanaya, arrived at the Blackstone yesterday on a two month tour of this country.

And Mrs. Yamaguchi means it. The first thing she noted as she got off the boat at San Francisco, she says, was the miniature tootsies of the California girl. Then she stopped at Denver and she found them still smaller. And now in our city—well, she cannot understand.

"It is wonderful," she said. "Your girls all have such pretty feet they remind me of little dolls. I have not seen one girl with big feet. I love their high shoes, too. They make their feet even more beautiful. But I must stop here."

The party have been traveling in the full Japanese regalia. They created a sensation last night when they entered the College inn with fur coats and sandals.

State's Attorney Hoyne will spend New Year's at home. He has been ill for the last week with an abscess in his right ear.

"FIGHTIN' 7TH" ARRIVES TODAY

Barracks Ready for 10 Day Stay Before Being Mustered Out.

The Illinois Seventh infantry, "the fighting Seventh," will arrive in Chicago today from its six months' encampment at San Antonio. It will not stop in the city, but will proceed direct to Fort Sheridan, where it will go into barracks to await muster out, which will require a week or ten days.

The regiment left San Antonio on Dec. 29 in three sections. The first was in command of Col. Daniel Moriarty, the second of Lieut. Col. Martin Clasby, and the third of Maj. Maurice Hallway.

Comes Over I. C.

The regiment will arrive in Chicago over the Illinois Central. The first section reached Clinton, Ill., at 9:30 o'clock last night; the second at midnight, and the third at 1 o'clock this morning.

The first section is expected to arrive in Chicago at 5 o'clock this morning and the other sections at intervals of two hours. The sections will be transferred from the Illinois Central to the Northwestern tracks as soon as possible. The first section is expected to reach Fort Sheridan between 10 o'clock and noon. The regiment will be comfortably in barracks some time this afternoon.

Chicago's welcome home to the soldiers will not take place until after the regiment has been mustered out.

The First Wisconsin infantry, Col. J. B. Joachim commanding, arrived over the Illinois Central railroad at Fort Sheridan at 4 o'clock in the morning.

SPEED YEAR AT BORDER.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Two thousand home hungry soldier boys of Illinois are celebrating New Year's eve here with one eye on the thermometer, which registers 65, and the other on various New Year's greetings from home which refer to such things as snow and zero weather. The mildness of a San Antonio winter, however, does not prevent a unanimous affirmation of vote on going home. The Illinois troops here are the Third and Fourth regiments, comprising the bigger part of the Second infantry brigade, which is commanded by Brig. Gen. Henry R. Hill of Quincy, Ill.

Skaters Cover Lagoons in All Chicago Parks

Despite the fact that the lid was on yesterday, there were plenty of skates in evidence. It was estimated that 5,000 of them, working in pairs, scurried over the ice in Humboldt park. In Douglas and Garfield parks there were 12,000 New Year's celebrants. There were 5,000 each on the Jackson park and Washington park ponds, and about the same number on the north and south ponds at Lincoln park. In Garfield, Humboldt, and Douglas parks toboggan slides afforded joy to thousands. Skaters and tobogganists carried horns and rattles and made as much noise as they did in the halcyon days of a "wet" Chicago.

Drops Dead in Home.

[illegible] Golden, 1255 West Fourteenth street, a retired merchant, dropped dead in his home yesterday shortly after eating his breakfast.

THE KISSING ROSE-BOY

In Which a Seven Year Old Peddles Flowers and Stuns Girl Purchasers.

A LITTLE chap, about as tall as a column rule, sneaked between the legs of the cerberus guarding the outer gate of the editorial offices of THE TRIBUNE yesterday and flamboyantly approached the desk of a young woman reporter. In his arms was a bunch of roses—in his eye a twinkle. He bowed gracefully and handed the surprised lady a flower. It was a shabby, skimpy rose, but the child's Chesterfieldian manner made it a bud from a royal garden.

Carl Ford

The young woman, taken aback, fished in her purse and found a coin. The rose-boy accepted the honorarium. Then, without warning, he stood on tiptoe, and—s-s-s-mack! There was nothing skimpy or shabby about the kiss. It was a precocious, artistic, sibilant, lingering adult osculation. The reportress nearly fainted.

Bowing low, the youngster departed. An hour later nearly every young woman in the building was wearing a rose. To one he had confided his name. He said he was Carl Ford.

His home was located. He is the 7 year old son of Charles W. Ford, a photographer at 2918 West Madison street. Father Ford nearly dropped the receiver when he heard about his hopeful's escapade.

"That kid's a regular Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," he said. "He sells everything—horns, magazines, possibly gold bricks. We can't stop him. And his savings grow like magic."

"BAD BOY" WEDS CHICAGO GIRL

Robert Cram Bacon was always a "bad boy" at school. Last spring he was severely censured for publishing "Harvard Inside and Out," in which a fictitious "Willie Peeble" in "kid" dialect roasted the members of the Harvard faculty, holding their pet weaknesses up to ridicule.

But Miss Helen Heafield of 429 Roscoe street does not care. While he was on the carpet she stood by him, and tonight incurred while lighting a gas stove.

They will spend their honeymoon in the west and then go to Boston, where the bridegroom will take charge of the eastern branch of his father's grain business.

Fall Kills John Stryker; Hip Injury Proves Fatal

John Stryker of 3148 West Forty-seventh street died at St. Bernard's hospital yesterday of injuries to his hip incurred in a fall on the sidewalk.

Henry Lawrence, 1305 Belmont avenue, fell on a slippery walk. His head struck the building, fracturing his skull and killing him.

Dead in Bed.

Jacob Kroll, 1900 West Erie street, was found dead in his bed yesterday by Mrs. Christina Robinson, with whom he lived.

MINISTER TELLS OF EXPERIENCE BEHIND THE BAR

The Rev. W. M. Saunders, Former Saloonkeeper, Gives Tip to Church Members.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

The church vs. the saloon.

The Rev. W. M. Saunders, former saloonkeeper, now pastor of the Avondale Presbyterian church at Albany avenue and School street, knowing both, put the two in contrast in a sermon last night for the benefit of those who are to begin the new year.

All Kinds of Drunks.

"I made money selling drink," he said. "I saw men when they were jolly drunk, mad drunk, beastly drunk, and silly drunk. I have given them the glad hand when they came into the saloon, and I have given them the toe of my boot when I wanted them to clear out. I dealt out drink to men I knew were spending money which ought to have gone for shoes for the children and a warm dress for the wife. I saw young men start the downward road who didn't know where they were going, but I knew and pitied them, but because they had the money I took it.

"I have seen men who had business standing playing cards, drink, and roll around with blear eyed bums. I found that whisky was a leveler of society, but it always leveled on the low grade.

Some Big Hearted Men.

"Yes, I've seen some big hearted men in the saloon, and I have known some saloonkeepers who had a certain kind of human sympathy for a person in real trouble, but I never knew a big hearted man who didn't have his heart shrivel, if he kept on drinking, and I never knew a saloonkeeper whose sympathy didn't freeze up when he thought he was going to lose money by it.

"On the other hand, I have found it harder to make money in serving the church, but I have found the money went farther and brought more joy. I have known the church to hunt out the families rendered destitute by the father's drinking habits, clothe and feed them. Right here I want to say that when a man tells me it is none of my business whether he drinks or not, I reply it is my business as long as the church has to give time and money to care for the families of men who spend their money in the saloon who otherwise would be able to take care of their own.

Saloon Robs Man of Job.

"I have seen the saloon rob a man of his job. I have seen the church give a man a job. The saloon will make the heart beat faster, but the church will make it beat steadier and longer. When a man goes out of a saloon he looks up and down the street to see who is watching him and ducks, if it is some one he is ashamed to meet. When a man goes out of a church he holds his head erect. No matter how much a man makes in a saloon he is shut out from respectable society. Everybody regards the church with respect. When I was a saloonkeeper I was always apologizing to myself and to everybody else. I don't have to apologize now."

After the sermon and before the closing exercises of the watch night service the clergyman went to the home of L. Steinmiller at 3520 North Albany avenue, where he united in marriage Miss Ruth Steinmiller and Steward J. Sterns.

WIDOW NAMES WESTERN PACKER IN LOVE SUIT

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Mrs. Elizabeth Odell, a young widow and postmistress of Cayuga, N. Y., has brought suit for $10,000 damages against Willis G. Knight, wealthy, middle aged political figure in Seneca Falls, N. Y., charging him with deceiving her into corresponding with him under an assumed name as a wealthy rancher who was struck by her beauty and was lonesome for her.

Mrs. Odell charges Knight with conspiring with L. M. Tipton, a wealthy East St. Louis meat packer, to carry on the alleged deception. She received her first letter in April, 1916, signed by "Chambers," who said he was a rancher who had seen her and was struck by her beauty and asked her to correspond with him. She said she answered discreetly and continued to be careful in her correspondence, while the letters from Chambers became more fervid.

Her letters were mailed in care of Tipton to National Stockyards, Ill., according to instructions from "Chambers," says Mrs. Odell. She charges Tipton with forwarding the letters to Knight at Seneca Falls and with mailing Knight's letters to her from National Stockyards.

Recently "Chambers" wrote that he was getting very lonesome for her, and asked if he could come to see her, says Mrs. Odell. She says he just stopped short of proposing marriage. She wrote him to come. He didn't, but an employé inquiring for "Chambers'" mail did. Mrs. Odell investigated, and eventually Knight called and apologised, but she did not accept his excuses.

Tipton Tells of Suit.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—L. M. Tipton lives at 1375 Lake avenue, East St. Louis. He admitted knowing W. G. Knight, but does not know Mrs. Odell. He said he went to Eastman college with Knight, but has not seen him in years.

"About a year ago I received a letter from Knight," he said. "He asked me to receive any letters sent in his name to East St. Louis and then forward them back to him. I received several and did as he requested. That's all I know of the case."

MAD WOLF DOG TERRIFIES CREW ON SPEEDING CAR

Motorman and Conductor, Latter Bitten, Lock Selves Forward and Dash to Loop.

A "wolf" dog, supposed to have been mad, gave the crew of a Cottage Grove car the fright of their lives early yesterday and brought innumerable troubles to a doctor and several policemen before it was finally killed. The dog boarded the car in the wake of a passenger at Ninety-second street.

Conductor John Simon thought the dog was the property of the passenger until that person looked suddenly, gave a whoop, and jumped from the moving car. Simon turned to look at the dog and then he let out a yell and fled for the front end. Foam showed on the dog's mouth.

Simon and the motorman seized the switch iron and went back into the car and attempted to dislodge the dog, but instead of succeeding, Simon was bitten on the hand.

Then the two gave up the fight, and after locking themselves in the front vestibule, put on full speed for the loop with the dog in full possession of the car. Upon reaching Wabash avenue and Monroe the motorman stopped the car and rushed into the Windsor-Clifton hotel and summoned Dr. P. W. Gill and notified the police station. Dr. Gill attempted to chloroform the dog, but could not get near enough.

Then the patrol wagon arrived. The police were unable to capture the dog, so Dr. Gill borrowed one of their revolvers and shot it. The dog's body was hauled away in the patrol wagon. The head will be sent to the health office for examination.

Dr. Gill said the dog appeared to have rabies.

"SPITE" FENCE WAR RENEWED

Berwyn's Battling Elders Near Peace as Barrier Is Sawed Down.

BUT TRUCE FAILS.

That's just the way they do in Berwyn.

"Mailed Fist Bill," the Berlin scourge, says, "Let's have peace," and Genial George, the London straw boss, says, "Where'd y' git that stuff at?"

It's the same on the Somme as on a Berwyn spite fence.

Arthur J. Dunham is a merchant and an elder in the Presbyterian church in Berwyn. J. Means Smith is also an elder in the same church, an alderman. They live side by side, with the six foot Dunham fence between. Saturday night somebody sawed off a hunk of the fence.

Of course Dunham didn't saw down his own fence. And of course Smith says it wasn't any of his sawing.

"We had a party at our house," said Elder Dunham. "Mr. Smith wasn't invited."

"Why should I saw off his fence?" inquired Mr. Smith.

Why, indeed? But there was no use asking the reporter.

"Six three inch posts were sawed off," said Mr. Dunham. "Now, what do you think of that?"

Mr. Smith didn't deny it.

"Now, Mr. Dunham," soothed the reporter, "why don't you and Mr. Smith make up? New Year's and all that sort of rot, you know."

"By gosh!" exclaimed Dunham—no, he didn't either: he's an elder. "I'll do it," he said—that's what he said.

It must be remembered that the reporter has been galloping back and forth between the Dunham and Smith houses.

"I'll do it," said Smith.

Light, fluffy smiles of peace mantled the brow of the reporter as he hastened back to the Dunham lares and penates.

"He says he'll do it," said the reporter to Dunham.

A stern, smileless woman drew up beside Mr. Dunham. It was Mrs. Dunham.

"Nothing," she said coldly and firmly, "du...

BLAZE CAUSES LOSS OF MORE THAN $150,000

Damage estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000 was caused early yesterday by a fire in a four story brick building at 1242-46 Milwaukee avenue. Clothing firms in the building suffered the most damage, chiefly from smoke and water.

These, with the estimated loss of each, are:

Jacob Frier Cloak and Suit company, $25,000.

Harry Bernstein Cloak and Suit company, $100,000.

Wachtel, Garfinkel & Co., $10,000.

The loss to the building was about $50,000.

Sergt. Joseph King of the West Chicago avenue station saw smoke issuing from the windows as he passed on a street car and, alighting, turned in an alarm.

ARMY AVIATORS RETURN TO BASE

Hempstead, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Five of the eight army aviators who flew over the aviation field here yesterday to Philadelphia in a qualification test for government pilot licenses returned today, after having suffered severely from the cold on their 115 mile trip at an altitude of from 5,000 to 8,000 feet.

W. H. Blakely, flight instructor, with C. H. Reynolds as a passenger, in a 130 horse power machine, covered the distance in seventy-two minutes.

Seven aviators started from Philadelphia on the return trip, but two met with mishaps. One was Lieut. A. M. Coyle, who was forced to land on Princess bay, Staten island, and the other was Sergt. A. L. Kraus, who had engine trouble and had to descend at Red Bank, N. J.

Three Held as Police Investigate Auto Theft

Edward Harris, 1610 West Harrison street, Samuel Lang of the same address, and Harry Lewis, 1410 South Ashland avenue, are being held at the detective bureau pending an investigation into the theft of an automobile owned by Dr. C. E. Paddock, 3622 South Michigan avenue. The automobile was stolen Saturday night and was recovered in Coal City yesterday after three men had deserted it there.

CAR SHORTAGE THREATENS COAL FAMINE IN CITY

George H. Cushing Says Only Prompt Shipments Will Avert Peril.

Various coal and railroad conditions still combine to confront Chicago with a coal famine.

George H. Cushing, editor of the Black Diamond, yesterday said that although the situation has been relieved since Christmas, Chicago yet is in danger.

In Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and West Virginia the holidays have cut into the productivity of the coal mines to a large degree. On the other hand, railroad and public utilities, the largest users of coal, have continued their normal consumption of coal. In some cases additional supplies were necessary because of the holiday seasons, as in the case of the railroads, on account of the extra freight and passenger traffic.

Meet City Crisis.

When the situation showed evidences of again becoming acute, on Friday, the railroads began to hustle their switching crews to arrange to have every coal car that could be reached placed on sidings convenient to the dealers. But that did not remove one of the principal dangers of the impending coal famine.

The railroads were trying to take care of the coal trains coming from the mines, loaded, but the mines were not being supplied with empty cars.

Shortage of Cars.

The result, Mr. Cushing states, is that the mines, after the holidays are over and they are again operating full force, will not have enough cars to send their output to Chicago. Only the promptest of action can overcome this phase of the situation.

"Five days' supply is not a healthy condition to be in," said Mr. Cushing. "Outside of the great public utilities companies there isn't an institution or firm in the city that could survive a week's famine in coal.

RUBENSTEIN UP TO LANDIS TODAY

Lawyers Will Try to Have Bondsman Set Free of Contempt Charge.

"SQUEAL BOOK" NEXT.

Federal Judge Landis will begin the new year by holding court this morning. The hearing will be on one of the various phases of the bond graft scandal, under inquiry for three weeks, with the result that seventeen bondsmen, lawyers, and bankrupt swindlers have been sent to jail and a number of others punished.

This morning the judge will listen to a plea to be made by attorneys for Abraham Rubenstein on a contempt of court citation.

Held to Grand Jury.

Rubenstein already has been held to the grand jury on perjury charges and disbarred from federal practice. Last week the judge fined him $100 for contempt of court and ordered Rubenstein to jail.

The attorney pleaded that he be given a chance to argue that the fine be set aside, and the judge set the hearing for this morning. He said he did not want to take up the time of the regular court session by having to listen to Rubenstein. Unless Rubenstein's lawyers convince the judge that their client should be allowed to go free Rubenstein will start the new year by taking another trip to jail.

"Squeal Book" Up Tomorrow.

Saturday the judge intimated that he will not go into other phases of the bond scandal hearing until tomorrow. The "squeal book" of the detective bureau, which he ordered seized Saturday, will be made a matter of close inquiry then, it is said. He is expected to probe into the secrets of the bureau in an effort to learn by what manner the professional bondsmen and crooked court clerks are enabled with the aid of the police to evade the laws regarding the taking and giving of bonds.

He also will go into the charges that various desk sergeants are collecting graft money from bondsmen. Several sergeants have been subpœnaed to appear as witnesses.

Callouses on the sole, sudden cramps in the toes and ball of foot

These and other painful and annoying ailments can be quickly and easily relieved, corrected or prevented. Let the Scholl foot expert at this store show you how.

Dr. Scholl's bunion reducers, each, 50c

This soft rubber device fits snugly over the bunion and gradually reduces it. It keeps the shoe in shape, wards off pressure and gives comfort right from the start.

Dr. Scholl's absorbo pads, 10c to 25c

They relieve corns, callouses and tender, enlarged joints instantly by holding off shoe pressure and friction. Sizes shown are for corns. Other sizes and shapes for callouses and tender joints.

Scholl expert gives free advice

A competent, thoroughly experienced man is in charge of this section. He is trained under the personal direction of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, the renowned foot specialist. The expert's advice is free to everybody.

Sale of Handled and Slightly Marred Books

During the holiday season many books became slightly soiled and damaged by much handling by gift-shoppers.

The damage in most cases is very slight, consisting of finger marked or rubbed covers and soiled edges, the inside of the books being in perfect condition.

On Tuesday January Second

these books will be placed on sale at greatly reduced prices. We have arranged several tables of these books, many of which are offered at less than the cost of bookmaking. The sale will continue until the entire lot is disposed of.

Some unusually desirable books are included and an early selection is advised.

Corsets In January White Sale

Second Floor South

Only a prodigious amount of careful planning and specialized selection could bring about this result. In many instances the brands on sale are identical with those in our regular lines—obtained from makers at such deep concessions as to forbid the name of the brands in the advertising. Accustomed as you are to seeing unusual things in the January Sale of Corsets, we know this sale presents still greater incentive for every woman who wants her favorite corset at a big saving.

Stout Women's Corsets, all branded models; made of fine materials; some with bands of elastic webbing across abdomen and back; regularly 3.00 and 5.00; special, at 2.00

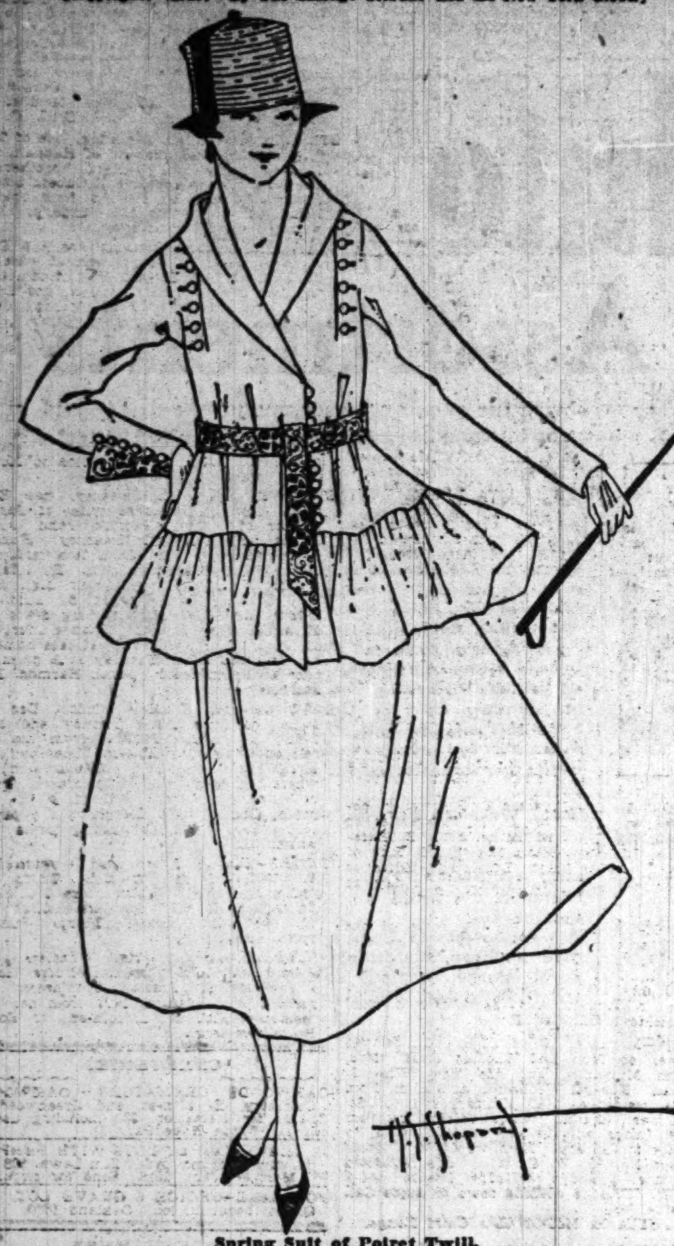
FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

[Copyright: 1917: By The Chicago Tribune and the New York Globe.]



Spring Suit of Poiret Twill.

BY HELEN MERRILL EMERY.

FASTER and faster turns the wheel of fashion and season follows season in such quick succession that almost before the question of winter clothes has been settled, one is confronted with models labeled advance spring styles.

The accompanying illustration shows a model designed for the in-between season. It is developed in foiret twill in a soft shade of tan with color introduced in the belt and cuffs embellished with Persian embroidery in tones of navy blue, tan, and gold. A box plaited frill extends just across the front of the coat and in the back the long lines are accentuated by a double row of buttons.

Tribune Cook Book

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

With so many things bright, prices are bound to be better. Winter prices will prevail, of course, so use judgment before you worry. Ten pounds sugar, 67 cents, without limitation. Honey several times found at 15 cents a comb, good when it has not been exposed to store dust. Cold storage eggs as cared for today, and in the thirties in price, often the early, are good for cake making. Sugar and eggs make substantial eating.

A Simple Cake.

RESOLVED, that in making our cakes for the year we will use simple and substantial materials, securing fineness through skill. Resolved, that we will find simple and palatable substitutes—notice and remember palatable—for expensive meat dishes. Savory rice and savory barley, which consist of a little meat, a little rice or barley, and considerable amounts of vegetables, are more than substitutes for meat, but they are that, too. Let us also make as many other resolutions in the same tone as we have time to frame or as occasion drives us to the making.

Here is one of the simple cake recipes which you may bake as thin as you know how, the knowing how coming partly in the thoroughness with which you put the ingredients together, or you may make it thick enough to cut out into little rounds, and squares, and hearts, and diamonds for icing. It is particularly good with coffee butter icing. Mock angel cake is another such.

Three Egg Sponge Cake.

This is one of the universal recipes: One cup sugar, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder if you must, three eggs, six tablespoons of hot water. Mix and sift dry ingredients, stir in eggs long and perfectly beaten [the expert can beat an egg in one-fourth the time of an amateur], add the hot water, beat the batter well. Thin layers should bake in from ten to twelve minutes in rather hot oven; thick ones in twenty-five.

Good Recipes on Request.

"If any one cares for recipes for canning meats, curing hams, making sausages, or corning beef, I have the best there are, and will gladly send them. I should like the words of 'Ragtime Cowboy Joe.' MRS. M. F. M."

Lest you may be swamped by glad replies to your tempting offer, altogether worthy of a true Cornerite, may I ask you to let us know when your store of recipes is running low? And that you will not overtax yourself by supplying the recipes to inconsiderate but well meaning correspondents who "just forget" to inclose stamps? Your wish for the comic selection is referred to ballad lovers and singers.

Home for Little Girl.

"For the last year I have been trying to find a little girl from 17 months to 5 years of age for adoption. It seems that I cannot find her, so I am writing to you to ask if you will please keep my name and address on your files and when you hear of a girl the age I desire let me know. We can offer a little girl a good home with the best of care, and will give her a good education. I should like to hear of a girl about that age now. Will you please let me know? "MRS. C. A."

Past successes in the adoption of children into good homes should encourage the Corner to take the foregoing into consideration. We could hardly set to work under more favorable auspices. The address of the person whose heart has yearned long for the joy of motherhood is in our books.

Kerosene for Ants.

"I notice in your Corner a remedy for ants. It has occurred to me that I had an even simpler remedy. I dip a feather in oil of cinamon and go over the places when they stay and congregate. Three years ago I used this remedy: Saturate a cloth in kerosene and tack it in any out of the way place in the pantry or kitchen. The ants will leave overnight. In possibly three weeks the kerosene will have evaporated, so it will be necessary to saturate the cloth again. In a kitchen the cloth might be tacked to the under side of a table. In about two weeks you will not see an ant unless the oil has evaporated. They simply will not stay where there is a smell of kerosene. C. E. F."

Soldiers in the armies of the Cross and Crescent, children in the gnome village scenes, mermaids, harem women, dancing girls, slaves, Moorish merchants and their retinues.

BY MAE TINEE.

"A DAUGHTER OF THE GODS" is a beautiful thing photographically. A riot of imagery harnessed with a rainbow. It does not appeal as might be supposed from various pictures and measurements gotten out regarding the shapely star, Miss Annette Kellermann, to the carnal mind. Quite on the other hand, one is struck by the extreme delicacy of the production's treatment. Mr. Brenon, while realizing the beauty and making no attempt at concealment of the feminine form divine, did not lose sight for a moment of the fact that this was primarily a children's picture, for the children we used to be and the children who are ours, and his charming, chaotic phantasy is as sweet and clean as a freshly bathed and powdered baby.

Put away, if you please, all beliefs and unbeliefs, and behold the transmigration of the souls of two tiny song birds, one the pet of baby Nydia, who dies of a broken heart, and goes to join the fairies, separated in the joytime of mating by the deadly paw of a cat, into the bodies of two humans, who, many years after, meet and are drawn together as irresistibly as in their former existence. Dominated over in turn by the Witch of Badness and the Fairy of Goodness, with their various busy satellites, they are led through myriad adventures in the dominion of a Sultan, a region of gnomes, a habitat of mermaids, and various other lorelands, whither, unwittingly, they meet and part and meet and part again. Death finally comes to both Anitia and Prince Omar, as they are known. Side by side, lying in royal state, the bodies are set out to sea by grieving subjects. Here the Witch of Badness makes a final attempt to wield her power, but the Good Fairy proves too much for her, and with the magic that is hers restores life and reunites for eternity the lovers who have loved so long.

Furnished with almost unlimited funds by the producers, Mr. Brenon betook himself and his mammoth company to the Island of Jamaica, where, after having secured permission of the British government, all the scenes were photographed. Much time was required and certainly no expense has been spared, for settings and scenic effects are gorgeous.

A criticism would be that there is too much of a number of good things. A man back of me remarked pettishly that he wished they would "cut out some of the witch stuff." I would rather, however, have seen a little less of the "water stuff." Huge breakers in a state of unruly rage futilely throwing themselves over giant rocks are certainly a sight to see, but one tires in time of looking at the same thing, no matter how much of a spectacle that thing may be.

It may be further kindly suggested that the next time the fair Annette is photographed, a better arrangement of the hair might be worked out. Now one can too plainly see just where comes the parting of the ways. However, these are only minor details and do not detract much from the excellence of the whole.

As an actress, Miss Kellermann has, one must confess, her superiors. Miss Kellermann herself, however, apparently realizes this as keenly as does any one else, and adroitly keeps her deficiencies in the background curtained by the undoubted abilities that are hers. William Shay as the young prince satisfies us, children all, and Hal De Forest, the Sultan, took the character well. His evil and ambitious favorite, Zarrah, as portrayed by Mlle. Marcelle, was quite naughty enough to furnish needed shading.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the acting of the Lee children, Jane and Katherine. They are dears! And among the funny little gnomes and elves are countless other clever children. If I were you, children that used to be, I'd make for myself a holiday and take the kiddies that are to see "A Daughter of the Gods."

ASK ME! ASK ME!

E. E. R.: Taking everything into consideration, I think you manage pretty well. Better let a good enough thing alone.

GEORGE: Yes, George. You poor thing!

B. D.: Mme. Nazimova's first name is Alla. A letter addressed to her care of the Herbert Brenon Film corporation, Fort Lee, N. J., will reach her. I have no personal information regarding the lady. I am sorry.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Write on one side of the paper only. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, "Tribune," Chicago.

A little friend of mine was invited to attend a birthday party. When the party was over he said to the child's mother, "How old is your little girl?" She told him 4 years old and he said, "I have had such a good time and I would like to come back when she's 5." D. M. C.

Ruth has a grandfather, but no grandmother. The last summer a little playmate had his grandparents come for a visit and Ruth saw them. She hurried home, shouting at the top of her voice, "Mother, mother! John has a lady grandpa!" A. C. S.

IT is the purity of a soap that most interests the doctor. For the purer it is, the better its action as an antiseptic.

The fact that Ivory Soap is generally used in the great hospitals is scientific proof that no purer soap can be made.

To you this means that Ivory Soap cleanses not only pleasantly but so thoroughly as to produce an aseptic condition which is cleanliness at its best.

A piece of Ivory Soap 1½ inches by 1½ inches by 1¼ inches dissolved in a gallon of water makes a one per cent. solution which is excellent for sterilizing articles in the home.

Dancing School a Good Cure for Girlish Bashfulness

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks, or how she added twenty pounds in five weeks to Miss Helene Barnett's weigh, or how she corrected a head of dry, thin, falling hair and an oily scalp with dandruff, or the article on treating Miss Hill's complexion for pimples and blackheads, send a stamped, addressed envelope and the information will be mailed to you. Any other questions pertaining to beauty and hygiene will be gladly answered.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WORRIED: I THINK AFTER you have gone to dancing school a few times you will overcome your nervousness. If you have no escort and feel hesitation about going alone, have you not a brother, sister, or mother who would go with you? Don't run away from every one simply because you have a few pimples. You are not the only one in the world who has them, and everybody cannot run away and hide. I think it is simply due to your nervousness. Send me a stamped, addressed envelope, won't you, and I shall be happy to send you my treatment for pimples and blackheads, so that you may get rid of them and go out among your friends and have a good time.

HOPE: A GIRL 5 FEET 3¼ INCHES at the age of 16 should weigh 121½ pounds. You see, you are only five and one-half pounds overweight. Nothing to deplore, is it? I am giving you my exercise for strengthening the ankles and then I am sure you will be glad you have a few extra pounds so you can enjoy a whole lot of skating this winter. Remove your shoes, stand erect, rise on the tips of the toes with all the muscles of the lower leg held rigid, lower the heels until they touch the floor. Bend the front of the foot upward as far as possible with the calf muscles held rigid. Go through this exercise for fifteen minutes twice a day.

SUFFERER: THERE ARE TWO causes for ingrowing toenails. Improper footgear is one and cutting the nails wrong is another. When cutting the nails cut them either square across or slightly concave. You must wear a shoe that is broad at the toe. In the meantime, once a day at least wash the toe, cleaning around the nail especially well. Lift the ingrowing corners of the nail and push a small pledget of cotton into the space. Slowly increase the size of the piece of cotton until the edge of the nail, having been lifted above the flesh on the side, no longer irritates it. Push the flesh back and fasten it in this position with a strip of oxide of zinc plaster.

REAL LOVE STORIES

The Tribune will pay $5 for every real love story published. If you know one, submit it. Address Doris Blake, The Tribune, Chicago. No manuscripts returned. If you have a perplexing love affair upon which you need the counsel of a friend, write Doris Blake. Send stamped, addressed envelope if you wish personal reply.

It's "Hullo" Daily Now.

As I was spending a lonely evening in a large city and felt kind of homesick, I made up my mind to call my mother at home, which was about a hundred miles away, and went into the telephone booth to put in my call.

I waited about a half an hour, and, not having any report on the call, thought I would find what the trouble was. I called the operator, who said she would look it up. I waited a few minutes before she told me that they had lost record of the call. I then gave her my call over again and she said that she would call me.

I waited another half an hour, and, losing patience, went in the booth again and asked the operator about my call. She said, "I being a new operator forgot to get the number of the telephone from where you were speaking, so I did not dare to put in the call without knowing your number." She tried to push things from one place to another and gave me different excuses.

I became angry and started to scold the girl. She said that she would report me to the telephone company. I asked her not to. As we were arguing there we seemed to become more friendly, so as my temper cooled down I tried to clear myself and her and we began to talk pleasantly.

I asked her if she would call me up some time at the place I was working and she said that she would. The next day she called me over the phone and several times after that also, and at last I asked her if she could see me some evening, which she consented to do.

I was out with her that evening and many times after that, and we loved one another more and more every day. She is now my wife. While living happily, we often think of the time I scolded her over the telephone. S. E.

Another Girl Steps In.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am a girl almost 15 and had a friend I thought a lot of and who thought lots of me. He came to school in town because I did and got to know another girl who is pretty. He won't meet me on the street if he can help it now. Is there anything I can do? N. I."

Isn't that just the way things go? But don't you realize that it's jealousy that is bothering you, and that this is a green something that you must get right out of your system as soon as you can? Don't be peevish about this new friendship. Treat him politely, just as if nothing had happened, be nice to the other girl, and show what a generous spirit you have.

SOCIETY and Entertainments

Society to Have a Gay New Year's Day

EVERYBODY will be rushing about today wishing everybody else the best things they can think of—and in the rushings about everybody will come across a most important function or two. The place where the largest number of debutantes will be found for the longest time will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hunter Garaghty, who will receive from 4 to 7 o'clock in their apartment at 999 Lake Shore drive, in honor of their daughter, Louise, whom they are presenting to society.

There will be two weddings of interest to Chicago people, that of Miss Marion Louise Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Osborne Mason of Highland Park, to William Frederick Peters, which will be solemnized at 5 o'clock in the Highland Park Presbyterian church, and the wedding of Mrs. Sylvia Corwin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Corwin of Oak Park, to Lewis Mercer Francisco of Clinton, Ia., which will take place at 8:30 this evening at the home of the bride.

Among those who will be at home to guests this afternoon are Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank of 1244 North State street, who will give their annual New Year's luncheon; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Faulkner of 4746 Dorchester avenue, who will receive with their eight daughters in honor of their sixtieth wedding anniversary; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. James D. Fallow, who will give a party from 4 until 11 o'clock at the Opera club; the members of the Cordon, who will receive in their clubrooms in the Fine Arts building in honor of the Cliff Dwellers; Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Ochsner of 2106 Sedgwick street, and Mrs. D. B. Scully of 649 East Irving Park boulevard, who will give a New Year's tea dance at her home for her three daughters, Genevieve, Marion, and Emily, and their young friends. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Price are receiving New Year's day from 4 to 8 o'clock at their home, 6726 South Shore drive.

At the cute little Casino club on the drive there was a very special sort of a program given last evening while the guests were waiting for the hour to come in which they had resolved to abandon all their sins and wickednesses. Mme. Louise Edvina, the prima donna of the Chicago Opera company, who is Lady Cecil Edwardes of London in private life, and a great personage socially, gave a program of songs in which there were several ditties written by our own John Alden Carpenter, and others by Claude Debussy, the almost vorticist French composer.

A young people's dinner-dance was given Saturday evening at the Blackstone hotel by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Drake and Mr. and Mrs. Tracy C. Drake for Miss Dorothy Eastman, John D. Drake III., and Carlos, niece and nephews, all of whom are here from eastern schools for the holidays. There were about 250 guests present, and there was dancing in the ballroom between the courses of the dinner. The decorations were Christmas greens.

Mrs. William Shippen Jenks of 745 Lincoln parkway gave a luncheon and matinée party Saturday in honor of Miss Louise Wood, daughter of Mrs. Ira Couch Wood of Winnetka, who made her debut recently while home from Bryn Mawr college for the holidays.

Mrs. John Crerar of 1901 Prairie avenue gave a young people's luncheon Saturday for her daughter, Marie, who is at home from school for the holidays.

Miss Lolita Armour took her two house guests, Miss Alice Silverthorne and Miss Elizabeh Chapin of New York, to spend yesterday at Mellody Farm, the Armour summer place in Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. George Francis Griffin of 1519 Astor street gave a dinner-dance on Saturday evening to sixty guests for Miss Elizabeth Goodrich, one of the debutantes of the winter.

Miss Sylvia Corwin

WHITE PHOTO

ONE of New Year's weddings will be that of Miss Sylvia Corwin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Corwin of Oak Park, to Lewis Mercer Francisco of Clinton, Ia. The wedding will be at the home of the bride at 8:30 in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Borden of 1020 Lake Shore drive gave a dinner last evening for Raoul Amundsen, the explorer.

The Birchwood Country club will keep open house all day today.

The governor and Mrs. Dunne will keep open house at the executive mansion in Springfield today.

A black and white ball will be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hoyne and Mr. and Mrs. Phelps B. Hoyt for their two daughters, Miss Helen Hoyne and Miss Betty Hoyt, in the crystal ballroom of the Blackstone hotel. The guests will come in every sort of black and white fancy dress and will wear masks. At midnight they will unmask and supper will be served.

Miss Martha Madeline Klinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Klinger of 2532 Sacramento avenue, and Edwin William Proctor were married at St. Sylvester's church on Saturday.

Celebrate Silver Wedding.

The silver wedding anniversary reception of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwin Sever of 5526 South Park avenue took place on Saturday evening at the Union League club. Those who assisted Mr. and Mrs. Sever in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor Cowles and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bachelder. There was dancing in the new banquet room and supper was served in the ladies' dining room. An informal program of readings and songs by guests was given during supper. There were 200 present.

Musical to Aid Russian Booth.

BY CINDERELLA.

THE Russian ladies of the Allied Bazaar are the busy bees. Their merchandise hasn't arrived yet from Russia, as the English grabbed the good ship Kursk for some reason, and have been holding her cargo. But beautiful gifts are being showered upon them and next Sunday afternoon Miss Ethel Wrenn is having a Russian musical at her house, 1500 Astor street, where Miss Jeannette Durno gives a piano recital followed by tea.

Donations of a dollar and a half are expected from persons who wish to go. Only half of the invitations are out as yet.

The Blackstone balls are getting gayer and later as the season goes on. The Armour ball last Wednesday night was beautiful, wonderful flowers, and everybody's prettiest clothes. Nobody was at all ready to go home at a quarter of three when Mrs. Ogden Armour gave the signal for "Home, Sweet Home."

Some of the young men tried to persuade the leader of the orchestra to continue, but he shrugged his shoulders and indicated that the matter was final.

At Mrs. Arnold Gilmore's ball for her daughter, Isabel, the next night the same beautiful floral decorations in the ballroom balcony, a wall of American Beauties behind the receiving line, and baskets of flowers everywhere.

The "jaz" band was a feature of the Gilmore ball and there was the usual excitement over their appearance. Only this time Spahmer's men, who had been doing some very "jazzy" playing of their own, and making very tremendous explosive noises with wind instruments, showed no disposition to depart when the witching hour of half after one came and the "jaz" band stood waiting at the ballroom door. It was a very delicate situation and had to be handled with some diplomacy.

Of course the "jaz" band is an acquired taste. But you have to be very strong and well to thoroughly enjoy a "jaz" band, which is a sort of cross between a boiler factory and a Strauss symphonic poem.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION FOR WOMEN:
"I'll Not Say 'It Serves You Right.'"

THAT $75,000 P. A. DREAM, DARCY SAYS

Signed for Two Weeks in Vaudeville, Then He Will Fight.

New York, Dec. 31.—[Special.]—Seventy-five thousand dollars for fifteen weeks' theatrical work! That's what a certain booking agent tried to slip over on an innocent New York public when he had signed Les Darcy to a two weeks' vaudeville contract. At first he insisted Darcy had contracted with him to be his manager and attend to all his affairs, both theatrical and boxing, for one year.

When this yarn was denied by Darcy the booking agent asserted he had been misunderstood and that he would look after Darcy's affairs for fifteen weeks, and that if Darcy should happen to "fall into" any fights in that time he would manage him.

Here's Darcy's Version.

Darcy thus explains the situation: "I have signed a contract to appear in vaudeville for two weeks. You see, I have given my word to Tex Ricard to give him two weeks' time in which to get some definite word from Carpentier regarding the proposed bout with me in this city.

"In the meantime I cannot engage in any boxing bouts, so I figured I might as well go into vaudeville while waiting. The contract referred to amounts to no more than that. It is simply a two weeks' engagement.

Waits Move by Carpentier.

"By that time Mr. Rickard expects to have some definite word from Carpentier, and my future actions will be governed entirely by what that word is. If Carpentier announces he will come here to box me I will start serious training immediately."

GILMORE WITH DARCY.

Harry Gilmore Sr., father of Fred Gilmore, local welterweight, yesterday received word that Fred would act as Les Darcy's sparring partner when the Australian starts on his theatrical tour. Gilmore made a trip to Australia and while there worked with Darcy. The theatrical engagements will open at Philadelphia Jan. 10.

Winter Race Meet Opens at New Orleans Today

New Orleans, La., Dec. 31.—[Special.]—With a heavy track in prospect, the winter meeting at the fair grounds will open tomorrow. The city is filled with visitors and, despite track conditions, fine sport is anticipated before a record breaking crowd.

All stakeholders have been appointed, and they will take care of those speculatively inclined. Stakeholders will work in relays, one shift taking care of the even races and the other of the odd ones.

Two great racers will sport silks tomorrow. Pan Zareta, the Texas speed marvel, is named to go in the Inaugural, and Leochares, one of the greatest sprinters of all times, will start in the New Year handicap against a formidable field.

Polish-American Team Trims Aelio A. C., 11-4

The Polish-American A. C. team defeated the Aelio A. C. at Eckhart park, 11 to 4. The feature of the game was the terrific hitting of the Poles, who secured nineteen hits off of Rayspis. Score:

Two Fifty Club Pedalers Race to Pullman Today

Tody is bie day. The Two Fifty club, which used to hold the sporting spotlight on New Year's day with its scorch to Pullman, will stage its twenty-sixth annual race. More than thirty riders are expected to start from Thirty-fifth street and Grand boulevard at 10:30 this morning. How many will be in at the finish in front of the Hotel Florence in Pullman is something else again, but the big field for the start is assured. Willie Kell, Ernie Kockler, and Peter Himschoot size up as the pick of the field.

PARK DIRECTORS READY TO STAGE "TRIBUNE" TESTS

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With hard and firm ice and moderate temperature, most playgrounds directors have decided to hold the preliminary tests in THE TRIBUNE skating tourney this week. This announcement was made yesterday by Supt. Theodore A. Gross of the playgrounds system.

"We want the tests held as soon as possible," Supt. Gross said, "and we do not intend to take chances on the weather. We want time to arrange an elaborate program of gold button winners for the finals.

There was skating yesterday at all playgrounds, and the kids certainly took advantage of the ice. Although the weather was a trifle warm, it did not affect the skating surface. At the large parks the lagoons were black with skaters. There is fourteen inches of ice at Washington and Jackson parks and the same thickness on the lagoons at the west side parks.

Some of the kids entered in THE TRIBUNE tourney will take a stiff workout today at Humboldt park, when they will compete in different age group races at the Sleipner A. C. Derby. This is one of the big open skating events of the season and always attracts a big crowd, which lines the banks of the lagoon. The first contest will start at 1 o'clock.

Staff Wins Northwest Skating Club's Race

Art Staff yesterday won the one mile race, open only to members of the Northwest Skating club, at Humboldt park. Roy McWhirter was second and Paul Quirk third. Staff skated the distance in 3:15.

Pittsburgh Soccer Stars Beaten at St. Louis, 3-2

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 31.—The St. Leos of St. Louis defeated the Pittsburgh All Stars today, 3 to 2, at soccer, before 5,000 people. Lack of an accurate shooter prevented the visitors from winning, as they had the better of the play. St. Leos were weakened by the absence of several stars. Shearer and Paterson shot the goals for Pittsburgh. St. Louis played with ten men for the last twenty minutes.

Poggenburg of Cue Fame Dies at New York Home

New York, Dec. 31.—J. Ferdinand Poggenburg, who several times held the American amateur billiard championship, died at his home in this city today. He was born in New York in 1865 and was a prominent member of the Liederkranz society. In 1912 Mr. Poggenburg represented the Liederkranz club in the international billiard tournament in Paris.

Exhaust Echoes

by Sheppard Butler

ENTHUSIASTS to the east of us declare the project for a Detroit-to-Chicago "paved way" is now assured of success. A plan for a sixteen foot concrete thoroughfare was inaugurated in Battle Creek, Mich., last March, and on Thanksgiving day the first two miles were completed near that center of shredded health. Approval of an $800,000 good roads bond issue in Calhoun county followed in short order, and the other counties along the line are considering similar measures. The route is to lie through South Bend, Kalamazoo, Jackson, and Ann Arbor.

When the Ford plant in Detroit reopens this week, after lying idle since Dec. 22 because of the railroad car shortage, it is estimated the 42,000 employés will have lost $1,400,000 in wages and the company will be something like 30,000 machines behind its production schedule. Plans are now under way for catching up on the production. The scheduled output for the current fiscal year is 750,000 cars. The gross business for last year amounted to $206,867,000.

A Minneapolis manufacturer has produced an automobile thief catcher in the form of a lock which emits a wild yowl when the motor is turned over. A key throws the lock-whistle into action when the motorist leaves his car. The idea is that the screech will attract the attention of the nearest policeman.

L. H. Wilson, manager of the Chicago Abbott-Detroit branch, is looking for the man who owns Abbott-Detroit car No. 16. He drove into the service room the other day for a small repair job and departed without leaving his name, though an employé saw the number. Inasmuch as Abbott-Detroit numbers now run above 80,000, Mr. Wilson is curious about the history of the old car, which seems to be running as well as it ever did.

Thomas J. Hay, Chandler distributor in Chicago, announces that a 10 per cent wage increase for all employés of the Chandler company who work on an hourly basis will be made tomorrow. In addition there will be a bonus in July. Prosperity and interest in the profit sharing idea are given as the reasons.

A controversy over the routing of the Lincoln highway in northern Illinois has been settled by an order from the president designating the south road through Frankfort as the official route. A century ago the Indians used this road, calling it the Sauk trail. In the '40s California gold seekers used it with their ox teams. Now, for the third time, it becomes again a unit in a widely known transcontinental route.

From the Detroit factory comes word that regular production of the new Harroun car will begin about March 1. The public will have its first glimpses of Ray Harroun's work as designer of a $595 machine at the New York and Chicago automobile shows.

In appreciation of the loyalty shown the firm, C. S. Rieman, vice president and general manager of the Elgin Motor Car company, gave a banquet to its employés at the North End Masonic temple, 15 North Clark street, last night. The banquet was followed by a dance.

FORMER WHALES GET CASH FROM FED OIL STOCK

Although the Federal league of baseball has now been dead for a little over a year, the Federal League Oil company, organized a year ago last March at Shreveport, La., when Joe Tinker and his Whales were training there, still seems to be lively and active. At least many ball players, former Feds, received checks yesterday for a payment of a 50 per cent dividend on the stocks they purchased at that time.

Joe Tinker was made president of the oil company, and still is named as vice president on the company's stationery. Joe holds 100 shares of stock, par value $2,500. So Joe's check received from the company yesterday was for $1,250. Mordecai Brown put about $500 into the venture at the time of the organization. Other players who took the chance were Bill Fischer, Claude Hendrix, Leslie Mann, Art Wilson, Clem Clemens, and Trainer King Brady. There were others also.

The company has about a half dozen producing wells, and was prevented from paying dividends previously because of a dispute over the land lease. The court decided in favor of the Federal League Oil company about two weeks ago, so a portion of the bank roll which has been accumulating was immediately mailed around in time to be a happy New Year greeting.

NEW YEAR RESOLVE.

I'm going to have a hard time, I'm afraid,
Keeping the one resolution I've made.

They say I encourage my youngsters to do
Things that by rights should be strictly taboo.

And when innocent guests are insulted by James.

But it's going to mean a hard struggle for me,
For the way that they do it is cute as can be.

BETTER FEELING IS DISPLAYED IN WHEAT MARKET

Prices Make Substantial Gains for Week; Corn Values Show Moderate Decline.

Wheat gained substantially in price last week and the markets were the most active the trade has ever seen in the holiday period, although volume of business was not as large as recently. Probably the most conspicuous feature was the sharp export demand that developed and the extravagant premiums that were paid for cash wheat available for shipment at the seaboard. These high premiums reflected in a large measure the inability of the railroads to carry grain to ports because of congestion on all lines. Round lots of wheat were wanted and buyers were willing to pay fancy prices, but no great quantities were available.

Toward the end of the week there was evidence of some relief from the embargoes on eastern lines, and if the promised increase in tonnage at the seaboard materializes the trade may see material improvement in the shipping situation. This naturally would be a bullish factor, as it is generally conceded that an active export demand exists and that grain would clear this country in much larger quantities were ships and cars available.

Political Situation a Factor.

Political developments abroad continued to have their influence on the market, although the effect was not as pronounced as in the previous week. There appears to be no immediate prospect of peace, while, on the other hand, the bulls are looking on peace in a more favorable light. It is believed in the event of peace there would be a rush to buy wheat in North America, where the grain is more readily available, as it would be some months before Russia would be in a position to ship any appreciable quantities.

The movement from the country is still on a small scale, and receipts at primary markets last week totaled only 966,000 bu, as against 13,985,000 bu for the corresponding week last year. For the first half of the crop year primary markets received a total of 252,450,000 bu, compared with 336,444,000 bu for a similar period last year and 327,581,000 bu two years ago.

Corn Market Lags.

Corn did not display the strength that wheat did; in fact, at the close of the week it showed small declines. Inability to ship east counted against the market in the early part of the week, although some big sales for shipment were made in the latter part of the period. The seaboard and gulf have been outbidding Chicago at downstate points, and the movement to this market is expected to be light for some time. The country is not selling much corn at present, and the severe weather prevailing over the belt has increased feeding of grain on the farms.

The local crowd has been inclined to take the bear side of the market for some time, but if the expected improvement in the shipping situation materializes there is bound to be a change of front. Receipts at primary markets last week totaled 6,105,000 bu, compared with 82,000 bu for the corresponding week last year. Since Nov. 1 the primary markets have received 49,820,000 bu, against 43,475,000 bu a year ago.

Oats Follow Wheat.

Oats continued to be influenced largely by the movement of wheat and closed the week with moderate gains. Trading throughout most of the period was local in character, with some good buying by export interests at times. Stocks are still heavy, but if the railroad congestion is relieved it is expected large quantities held here will move to the seaboard. Primary receipts last week were 3,143,000 bu, against 5,156,000 bu a year ago.

Hog products were weaker. Free liquidation by holders of lard counted against the market, as did the lull in the cash trade, both domestic and foreign. Late foreign reports indicate serious interference with Belgian relief shipments, which have been the mainstay in the market of late. Hog receipts are expected to continue on a liberal scale, and stocks are accumulating.

WEDDING HALTED—

But 13 Year Old Girl Says She Will Yet Marry Sweetheart.

Miss Augusta Clyne

Augusta Clyne, 13 year old daughter of Mrs. John Moody, 58 Kimball street, Elgin, "eloped" with Clyde Parron of that city and was arrested in the State hotel, State and Harrison streets.

She insists that she will marry Parron.

He says that he wants to marry her.

Mrs. Moody says: "Never! I will never let my little girl marry that man."

Amundsen to Appear Here Last Time on Friday

On Friday more than 300 of the 2,200 members of the Navy league in Chicago will have a luncheon at the Hotel La Salle, with Capt. Raold Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, as guest of honor.

INSURANCE YEAR VARIES WIDELY AS TO PROFITS

Fire and Casualty Companies Earn Less—Life Concerns Break All Records.

BY C. M. CARTWRIGHT.

Few fire companies were able this year to give Christmas or year-end bonuses or advances in pay to their office employés. It was not a good year in fire underwriting, the burning rate having jumped back to about the same figure at which it stood prior to 1915, when there was a decided improvement.

The downward tendency of fire insurance rates did not abate materially during the year, despite this increase in fires, and on top of it all came the "peace panic" on the stock exchange that was costly to many fire companies that invest their funds in stocks. Those that carry their investments in bonds were not materially affected.

Present economic conditions and the satus of fire insurance affairs have presented a problem to the companies. They do not feel they can afford on present rates to advance salaries and they find themselves virtually unable to advance rates.

Casualty Concerns Also Suffer.

Casualty insurance companies find themselves in a somewhat similar position. During the last year they have awakened to the fact that their rates for workmen's compensation insurance have not been adequate; that the deferred losses have been greater than they expected, and that the funds set aside for these have not been sufficient. They likewise have suffered from stock exchange conditions.

On the other hand, the life insurance companies never have been more prosperous. More business was written than in any year in previous history. Many of the big life companies distributed considerable sums in bonuses to their office employés. The Federal Life Insurance company of Chicago established a system by which employés will receive every year a share of the profits of the company, depending on their annual salaries and length of service.

Presents of Insurance Help.

Many mercantile and manufacturing concerns this year gave life insurance policies to their employés. Nearly all of these were written in groups, without medical examination, and protection has been given to people who would be unable to buy it if they were compelled to apply for it individually. Group life insurance on employés, with the premiums paid by the employer, has only been written for a few years, but it has grown in popularity rapidly and vast amounts of it are reported throughout the eastern manufacturing centers.

The issuance of group policies by companies has materially increased the volume of those writing the form. This, however, does not count in on the amount to which companies are limited by the New York insurance law. The New York legislature last year amended the statute in this respect, but despite that fact six companies this year wrote all that they were permitted.

Talk of Pott's Successor.

Insurance men expected to know within the next week or two who will succeed Rufus M. Potts as superintendent of insurance of Illinois, when his term expires in May, or earlier if he retires in the meantime. Word from political camps is to the effect, however, that no announcement will be made till April.

The impression seems to be that the selection lies between Fred W. Potter, formerly superintendent under Charles S. Deneen, and Charles F. Hildreth, a local insurance agent at Freeport, Ill., who has been president of the National Association of Insurance Agents and also president of the Illinois Association of Insurance Agents. P. J. V. McKian is also looming up as a candidate, and as a Christmas present received a petition to Gov. Elect Frank O. Lowden signed by many influential insurance men of Chicago. Mr. McKian is assistant editor of the Insurance Post of Chicago and has been connected with insurance journalism and the insurance business in Chicago for many years.

Auto Rates to Be Raised.

As of Feb. 1, automobile rates will be changed. Fire insurance on second hand cars will cost more than on cars in the hands of original purchasers, and theft rates on some of the cheaper cars will be materially increased. Car owners who have their machines equipped with locks that have been approved by the underwriters' laboratories will receive lower rates than those who have no locks or use devices that have not been approved. Rates on electric cars a year or so old or more will be increased.

Fire insurance agents are finding numerous opportunities to render a service to their customers these days, inasmuch as in so many lines of business values have increased. Frequently merchants and other property owners have not taken an account of this appreciation in values and have overlooked covering it by more insurance.

Many agents are making a systematic canvass of their customers and pointing out how much extra indemnity should be carried.

BROKERAGE FIRM CHANGES HANDS

George H. Taylor Jr., Paul C. Dodge, and Thompson Ross have acquired the firm interests of Frank H. Stanwood in Stanwood, Taylor & Co. The new firm will continue business under the firm name of Taylor, Dodge & Ross, with offices at 704-708 Harris Trust building, 111 West Monroe street. Mr. Stanwood has organized the Standwood company and will have offices at 801 Harris Trust building. The firms will specialize in bonds.

Ice Peddler Dead of Cold in His Home—a Barn

Dennis McGrath, an ice peddler, was found dead yesterday, supposedly of exposure, in a barn at the rear of 3819 Emerald avenue, in which he lived.

SPECULATORS SIT TIGHT IN LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Every one is in a flutter of doubt and anxious expectancy. This, rather than want of interest, is responsible if movements in the stock market are unimportant. A sentence from Lloyd-George's speech indicating the need for a brief period of "months, or even weeks," of special sacrifice was quoted by a member of parliament today along with Bonar Law's statement that our finances will hold out long enough to secure a successful issue.

The political difficulty is that to enforce privation measures will hit the poor hardest and so promote the spread of revolutionary doctrines. Even the mild official labor party is understood to be pressing for a 25 per cent capital levy besides plans for land settlement which would break up the large estates.

Meanwhile food and shipping dictators will have to take strong steps before parliament meets in order to prove the superiority of the new over the old government. Many newspapers are pressing for the closing down of breweries and confectionery trades until the end of the war.

The raising of the statutory railroad fare from 1 penny a mile to the 3 halfpence last Monday was challenged last week in the house of commons.

No one dare speculate in the present stage, but the indications from hostile newspapers and from neutral countries support the belief that the German-Austrian peace push will continue.

TRIES SUICIDE ROLE TO SCARE HER MOTHER

Girl Opens Gas Behind Locked Door When Forbidden New Year Junket.

On Christmas Miss Celia Mandel of 939 North Ashland avenue received from her mother a new coat, a hat, and a pair of shoes.

Last night Miss Mandel, who is 17 years old and regarded as a striking beauty by her associates, announced her desire to celebrate the arrival of the new year in the company of a young physician of her acquaintance.

Her mother forestalled this by taking away the new hat and coat. She went to her room and drank a half bottle of toilet preparation. Then she locked the door and opened the gas jet. When the police came she was hysterical, but when taken to the Shakespeare avenue police station she explained that she was trying to scare her parents.

Two $15,000 Men Want Jobs!

TWO SUCCESSFUL SALESMEN, AT PRESENT EARNING $15,000 A YEAR EACH, WANT TO MAKE A CONNECTION WITH A LIVE CORPORATION NEEDING REAL SALESMANSHIP IN THEIR BUSINESS.

WE HAVE SOLD EVERYTHING FROM ADVERTISING TO MACHINERY DURING LAST FIFTEEN YEARS AND HAVE ORGANIZED SELLING AGENCIES IN LONDON, PARIS AND BERLIN, BESIDES HAVING BEEN THE ACTUAL HEADS OF MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISES HERE AND ABROAD.

WE HAVE PERSONAL ACQUAINTANCE WITH HUNDREDS OF BANKERS AND BIG BUSINESS IN ALL LINES OF BUSINESS THROUGHOUT THE UNITED STATES.

WE HAVE STARTED SEVERAL SUCCESSFUL COMPANIES BUT ALWAYS TOOK THE BIG AND QUICK PROFIT AND YET TODAY HAVE ONLY ABOUT ONE-TENTH WHAT WE SHOULD HAVE SAVED.

WE NOW WANT TO SETTLE DOWN WITH SOME RESPONSIBLE CONCERN WHICH HAS THE FINANCIAL ABILITY TO BACK OUR SELLING JUDGMENT AND WHICH WILL GIVE US A CHANCE TO EARN AN INTEREST IN THE BUSINESS IN ADDITION TO PAYING US A REASONABLE SALARY.

NO PROPOSITION TOO BIG NOR TOO HARD FOR US TO HANDLE IF WE BELIEVE IT CAN BE SOLD.

WILL GO TO EUROPE, SOUTH AMERICA, OR THE ORIENT, PROVIDED WE CAN MAINTAIN OUR RESIDENCE HERE. CAN MAKE CHANGE WITHIN 30 DAYS. ADDRESS X 502, TRIBUNE.

I WANT TO LEARN SALESMANSHIP.

My experience covers five years' handling collections by correspondence and my record shows I have made good in this line, but I don't like the game nor the name, and for that reason I want to get out of it; I may or may not have the qualifications of a real salesman, but I have plenty of energy, originality, and perseverance; my age is 3., married, and an American; if there is any firm willing to take a chance on developing such a man, then let's talk it over. Address T 255, Tribune.

Rapid growth of business necessitates employment of larger force of young women operators at telephone exchanges, thus offering opportunities of immediate employment with good chance of advancement.

Operators are paid at the rate of thirteen cents (13c) per hour for the first month (while learning the work), fourteen cents (14c) for the second and third months, fifteen cents (15c) for the fourth, fifth, and sixth months, and so on up to and including twenty-four cents (24c) per hour for those who remain operators; further, exceptional opportunity exists for those who show marked ability.

In addition to this luncheon is provided free of expense to students and operators.

The pleasant surroundings, ideal working conditions, attractive luncheon and rest rooms, make an operator's position highly desirable.

Young women over 16 yrs. of age apply at any of our offices, or at Room 1, 111 No. Franklin-st.

YOUR HOME
For Spring Delivery

Should now be inspected. Austin is one of the few ideal locations, free from smoke, soot, and other objectionable features prevalent in the more congested parts.

We have the artistic bungalow built with 2, 3, or 4 bedrooms, living room the entire width of the house, brick fireplaces, built-in bookcases and buffet sideboard, beamed ceiling, vitreous china pedestal lavatory and closet, one-piece sink, automatic gas water heater, hot water heat with American Ideal Radiators and boiler. The interior finish, art glass, lighting fixtures, and decorations are made a special feature and admired by everybody who sees them.

Under construction there are also several residence homes having 4 large bedrooms on the second floor; the living room and dining room are extra large and the one panel doors and the artistic staircase are some of the features.

Large lots; streets paved and paid for.

Prices range from $4,000 to $6,500 on terms to suit or cash.

Take a Chicago-av. car to Latrobe-av. and walk north 3 blocks to houses, or the Division-st. car connecting with Grand, Crawford, or Cicero-avs.

EXTRAORDINARY INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY.

Let us show you how a $50 investment grew to a fortune of over half a million dollars in 9 years.

This same opportunity is now being offered to you. Your investment in this proposition is absolutely safe. This company owns its own buildings, lands, machinery and valuable patents, and its products are sold throughout the civilized world. The reason we seek additional investors is this: With additional capital we can more than double our profits. Our factories are working day and night to supply the demand. If you have any spare money to invest in a growing establishment where each dollar invested has grown to $14,000, drop us a line or send us a postal stating how much you could invest if we prove to you that these statements are facts. We will send you full particulars, our bank references, and convincing proofs.

WE MUST HAVE THE ROOM

You cannot afford to overlook the following bargains. We are prepared to sell the Used Cars listed below on easy terms to responsible people:

LOCOMOBILE, Type R, 1915 38 horse power, six cylinder, five passenger touring car. Equipped with top, wind shield, electric lights and starter, speedometer, clock, day and night lock, dimmers, Klaxon horn, air compressor, gasoline gauge, etc. Has been newly painted green with gold striping. This car is economical to buy, own, and keep up; is unusually well appointed and equipped with good tires. Will be sold under our standard new car guarantee.

LOCOMOBILE, Type R, 1915, 38 horse power, six cylinder, five passenger touring car. Equipped with top, wind shield, electric lights and starter, speedometer, clock, day and night lock, dimmers, Klaxon horn, air compressor, etc. This car is newly painted dark blue with light blue striping. Will be sold under our standard new car guarantee.

LOCOMOBILE, Type R, 1915, 38 horse power, six cylinder, four passenger torpedo. This car is equipped with Rudge-Whitworth wire wheels; has been put through our shops, is repainted and equipped with new Goodyear cord tires. Equipped with top, wind shield, electric lights and starter, speedometer, clock, day and night lock, dimmers, Klaxon horn, air compressor, gasoline gauge, etc. Painted green, gold striping. Will be sold under guarantee.

LOCOMOBILE, 1914, six cylinder roadster. A car that will appeal to the man who wants a fast, snappy, and up to the minute high grade roadster, thoroughly rebuilt, newly painted, new Silvertown cord tires all around. This car is something different in class and appearance and is an unusual bargain.

OVERLAND 1915, Model 81, two passenger roadster. Equipped with electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims. Painted dark blue.

MERCER 1914, four passenger, in excellent mechanical condition; has just come out of our paint shop. Equipped with electric lights and starter, wire wheels, two extra wheels and tires mounted on wheels, spotlight and motometer. An ideal, fast, snappy car at a very attractive price.

WINTON 1914, 48 horse power, six passenger torpedo. Equipped with electric lights and starter. Warner speedometer and clock, Klaxon horn, shock absorbers, air pump, pyrene gun, etc. Paint and mechanical condition good; tires almost new. An excellent value.

COLE PRE-INVENTORY BARGAINS.

We are on the verge of taking our 1916 inventory and closing our books for this year and have a number of high grade used cars which we will sacrifice at prices far below their actual prices rather than carry them into the new year.
Also we need the room for other used cars that are arriving daily in exchange on new cars and we will positively any of the following cars, mostly all late models.

COLES [ALL MODELS],
CADILLAC,
MARMON,
STUDEBAKER,
CHALMERS,
CHEVROLET,
ABBOTT DETROIT,
STUTZ,
MAXWELL,
PAIGE,
HUDSON,
JEFFERY,
BUICK, REGAL,
MICHIGAN,
KING,
E. M. F.,
OVERLAND,
HAYNES, AND MANY OTHERS,
INCLUDING COUPES, LIMOUSINES, CARS WITH DETACHABLE TOPS, AND ROADSTERS.

These cars are all in first class condition both mechanically and as to paint. All have complete equipment, good tires, and some have many extras.

BUY NOW

Used cars are cheaper now than they will be in the spring. All new cars will have advanced sharply in price by then, thus making the used car more valuable. The best argument in favor of the above fact is all used car dealers are advertising cars wanted and are positively buying and storing for spring business. Therefore make your selection now and we will give you until you are ready to drive it in the spring.

*Don't fail to take advantage of this opportunity to save money.

With its season for wear just begun, we are closing out the finest, freshest stock of winter merchandise that we have ever shown for final clearance, in anticipation of the earlier than usual arrival of our new Spring lines.

The response to the announcement of this sale has been most gratifying. The business of the past five days has been equal to the sales of a full month in our old building, and yet at no time has our store been uncomfortably crowded, or have things gone other than smoothly and cheerfully.

For this second and last full week of our clearance we have prepared such wonderful attractions and values that we expect the sales of the coming five days to exceed the sales of the week just past.
